Miss Mary Catherine Bender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy [illegible] of Waldo, followed [illegible] trend in the family when she enlisted last week in the WAVES, making the third member of the couple to enter [illegible] service since the first of the year. All entered service by enlisting at the Marion [illegible] recruiting substation [illegible] Main street.

The first to enlist was Evelyn [illegible] hospital apprentice, [illegible] at the Naval hospital [illegible] Wash.

On June 31, just a week after her sister's enlistment, Vera [illegible] enlisted and both took their training at Hunter College.

Miss Evelyn had just finished her training when Vera [illegible] at the college. Vera is now completing her advanced course as hospital apprentice, second class at Naval hospital, San Diego, Calif. and will graduate next week.

Miss Catherine, now on inactive duty, will leave for Hunter college early in June, for communications training. Although all are following the same route, the girls haven't been together since February when Vera left for training.

All graduated from Waldo high school and Evelyn and Vera both attended the School of Nursing at Sawyer's Sanatorium. Evelyn later served at the sanatorium as nurse in charge of physical therapy and occupational department.

Mary Catherine is employed at the Marion Engineering Depot as cashier and bookkeeper.

Another sister, Virginia at home has already expressed her intentions of considering joining the Waves when she reaches enlistment age. One son, Vernon is also at home.

Closing Shows In Victory Volunteer Drive Set Tonight

Despite the storm last night, attendance at both of the special [illegible] as planned as part of Marion's Victory Volunteer worker [illegible] was higher than on the two preceeding days. More than [illegible] were present at Central Junior high school for the neighborhood [illegible] and the number of [illegible] at the Army show at the [illegible] Buick garage was [illegible] at about 3,000.

[illegible] closing of the special [illegible] will be held at 7:30 p. m. [illegible] at South Center Street school. E. [illegible] Cleveland, assistant to general [illegible] of Marion Steam Shovel [illegible] will be guest speaker.

The Army display at the Danner garage on West Center street will be open until 9 p. m. today and then the equipment will be packed for shipment to Zanesville.

William Ehrick, plant superintendent of Huber Manufacturing [illegible] guest speaker last night at Central Junior High, explained that the purpose of these meetings [illegible] to show Marion workers [illegible] on various battle fronts [illegible] how heavy equipment is used. The "Earthmovers" show machines made in this area. The [illegible] he said, give an idea of [illegible] hours usage the machines [illegible] so workers could understand [illegible] replacement parts were so [illegible] He reminded the listeners that it was up to them to turn out these replacements.

He continued with the information that manpower had been at a dangerously low ebb and Marion production schedules were [illegible] behind. The Victory campaign, he said, is a direct appeal to [illegible] workers, especially [illegible] can volunteer for war [illegible] Interest is centered particularly [illegible] retired men who are [illegible] able to work and those [illegible] able to work a split [illegible]

[illegible] workers who are conducting the house-to-house campaign to recruit workers are expected to finish up their territory [illegible] and final reports will be [illegible] soon.

[illegible] stations are still coming [illegible] employment office, but [illegible] number received is unofficial.

Friday's Tin Can Collection Area

[illegible] cans will be collected [illegible] from the business district [illegible] John V. Ruth, city safety [illegible] director, announced today. Unless some section has been overlooked, it will be the [illegible] collection for the present [illegible]

U. S., CHINESE TROOPS TAKE JAP AIRDROME

Field Captured After Surprise 20-Day Forced March Across Mountains.

By The Associated Press

SOUTHEAST ASIA HEADQUARTERS, KANDY, CEYLON, May 18—In a surprise attack climaxing a spectacular forced march over rugged terrain American and Chinese forces yesterday captured the Myitkyina airdrome and now are besieging Myitkyina city, major Japanese base in northern Burma, allied headquarters announced today.

Capture of Myitkyina is essential to the success of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's drive to link the new Ledo highway with the old Burma road, thus opening a direct overland supply route into China. It appeared likely that Myitkyina would fall into his hands before the coming monsoon season bogs down major operations.

Brig. Gen. Frank D. Merrill's jungle-wise American marauders played an important role in the capture of Myitkyina airdrome, a feat which probably will take its place in history as an epic of the war in the Asiatic theater.

Planes Land Quickly

The airfield was taken in good condition, enabling gliders and transport planes to land there almost immediately with American engineers and Chinese reinforcements.

Myitkyina is one of the two main Japanese bases in northern Burma and one of the immediate major objectives of Stilwell's offensive.

Mogaung, the enemy's other principal base in northern Burma, situated about 40 miles west and slightly south of Myitkyina, is menaced by a second Stilwell column moving down from the north along the Mogaung valley.

Battle front dispatches yesterday said the Japanese were in a tough spot in northern Burma and prospects were bright for reoccupation of the whole area.

Capture of the Myitkyina airdrome brought Stilwell's forces within 80 miles of a strong Chinese army which May 11 swept across the Salween river in China's Yunnan province in a drive to effect a junction with Stilwell in Burma.

Myitkyina is the largest city in northern Burma and has been in Japanese hands for two years.

20-Day March

Fall of the airdrome climaxed a forced march of 20 days by three columns of Chinese and Americans under direct command of Merrill, which pushed forward over rough, tortuous ground from the Dumon hills on the eastern side of the Mogaung valley, a communique said.

The attack "apparently caught the Japanese completely by surprise and only slight resistance was offered," the bulletin declared.

The battle-seasoned marauders and American-trained Chinese troops turned their mortars on Japanese positions in Myitkyina itself immediately after seizing the airdrome.

One of the greatest tests of stamina occurred when Merrill's men scaled a 50-degree grade on a 6,100-foot mountain northwest of Myitkyina, cutting steps through the undergrowth and advancing virtually on all fours.

While only 80 airline miles separate Stilwell's troops from the Chinese army fighting westward in China's Yunnan province, the junction of the two forces is not expected to be easy. The airline distance between them

DETROIT WAR PLANTS REOPEN

52,000 Returning To Work As 3,300 in Foremen's Union Call Off Strike.

(Picture on Page 10)

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, May 18—Michigan's major labor dispute appeared settled at least temporarily today as the first of 52,000 war production workers made idle by a strike of 3,300 foremen began receiving calls to return to their jobs.

How soon the long assembly lines at 13 affected plants would be moving at full speed remained in doubt, but preparations were being made for an early resumption of production of aircraft parts and other war materials which top army and navy officials have termed vital to maintenance of schedules on the fighting fronts.

The decision to end the three-week strike was reached last night at six separate chapter meetings of the Foreman's Association of America, with which the striking foremen are affiliated. The action was taken on instructions from Robert H. Keys, national president of the independent union.

Keys, summoned to a two-hour Washington hearing by the war labor board, was warned by its chairman, William H. Davis, that "if you take on the United States government in time of war, you are licked." Urging the foremen to end the strike and then come before the board with their grievance over union recognition, Davis told Keys continuance of the strike would "handicap yourself by putting the United States government on the other fellow's side."

Calling the strike "one of the most serious setbacks the air force has had since its inception," General H. H. Arnold said he was not interested in the merits of the dispute, but pointed out that the war production involved was so essential its stoppage might even affect invasion operations.

Keys said the union's decision

Legion Auxiliary Poppy Sale Set for Friday and Saturday

Mrs. J. A. Dripps, Poppy day chairman of the Women's Auxiliary to Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, has announced the names of workers who will assist in the annual poppy sale to be held Friday and Saturday.

Proceeds from sales of poppies will go to disabled veterans of both World wars and dependent families.

Workers will be posted on street corners in the business district to take contributions for the fund. Donors will receive the poppies to wear on lapels, showing they have given to the fund.

In the 40 et 8 Box car which will be used as headquarters at the courthouse plaza will be Mrs. Dripps, Mrs. Harry Baldauf, acting county chairman, Mrs. C. B. Morris, auxiliary treasurer, and Mrs. W. E. Orcutt, auxiliary president.

Mrs. Orcutt will captain a group working from 10 a. m. to noon on Friday. Included in the group are Mrs. Carl Pfleiderer, Mrs. Charles Trafzer, Mrs. Thomas Hurley, Mrs. Fred Berg and Mrs. Ben Wiant.

The group taking over from noon to 2 p. m. will be headed by Mrs. Baldauf. They are Mrs. Edward Thibaut, Mrs. Ray Everett, Mrs. N. V. Foreman, Mrs. Blanche Lamb, Mrs. Charles Howard, Mrs. A. W. FINDS GERMANY STILL STRONG Larry Allen, Repatriated Newsman, Says Railroads Function Normally.

The following is the first dispatch from Larry Allen, Publicity Relations Acting Associated Press war correspondent now being repatriated after 23 months in Italian and German prison camps. Allen was the Publicity Relations Director for his station with the British Mediterranean Fleet. He was captured when he accompanied a British commando raid on Tobruk in Libya on Sept. 17, 1942.

By LARRY ALLEN

ABOARD THE GRIPSHOLM AT BARCELONA, May 18 — Nazi Germany, apparently expecting the allies to smash through the Atlantic wall defenses, is concentrating on completion of a second great system of fortifications deep in France, and has told her soldiers the line must be held "until the last man."

As our invasion nears, Germany's vast network of communications still is largely intact despite heavy allied bombings.

Her great railroad terminals in all sections of the country and through the eastern part of France constantly are crowded with thousands of troops moving between the western and eastern fronts.

I have just come out of Germany into the clear air of freedom after eight months as a prisoner of war in concentration camps, cellars and dungeons of the greater Reich—this after spending a year in Italian prisoner camps—and enroute I saw in detail how smoothly and efficiently the German communications system is working.

In all the heavily-bombed cities there is considerable destruction of factory areas and residential districts, but all the way from the Polish corridor to Marseille I didn't see a single railroad station destroyed or even seriously damaged.

I passed through Poznan, Gorlitz, Dresden, Munich, Stuttgart, Karlsruhe and other points, and at some of them I was told that as many as 52 passenger trains roll through the stations every 24 hours.

(A large part of Allen's route was across southern and Eastern Germany where allied bombings have not been as severe as in other parts. The remainder of the route to France was across the upper Rhineland where quick repairs may have been made.)

CLEVELAND FACING BUS, TROLLEY STRIKE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 18—A tieup of Cleveland's mass transportation system was imminent today after AFL unionists of the city transit system voted by a margin of 7 to 1 to cease operation of street cars and buses at midnight Saturday.

Following announcement of the results of the strike balloting, CTS General Manager Walter J. McCarter appealed for immediate steps to establish emergency transportation service for war workers.

"Every effort should be made between now and Saturday to establish emergency transportation service, particularly to war plants, in order that stoppage of war production may be held to a minimum," McCarter said.

The strike action was precipitated by a breakdown in wage negotiations between the transit board and the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America.

The board last week announced an increase of two cents an hour for operators of two-man vehicles and five cents an hour for operators of one-man vehicles, bringing the scale to 96 cents and $1.06 an hour, respectively. The board maintained the new rates represented the average of wages paid for similar work in comparable cities.

The union demanded a blanket increase of seven cents an hour and the strike vote was called when the transit board refused to submit the dispute to arbitration as proposed by the union.

FIRE STATION, POWER SERVICE HIT BY STORM

Lightning Strikes Hose Tower at Central Station; Street Lights Off Short Time.

Marion shuddered and shook between 6:30 and 7:30 last night under one of the heaviest electrical storms to hit this area recently.

Lightning struck the hose tower at Central Fire station, causing considerable damage.

Marion-Reserve Power company officials reported extensive damage to equipment in Marion.

Officials of the Marion branch of the Ohio Associated Telephone company said that damage was general but not heavy.

Damage estimated at $1,000 was caused when a bolt of lightning hit the southeast corner of the hose tower at the fire station at 6:36 p. m. and knocked bricks away two to three feet on the south and east sides of the tower.

Follows Drain Pipe

After its first contact the bolt jumped to the drain pipe on the other side of the tower and traveled down the inside of the building to a locker room where Firemen Louis Chapman and Richard Miller were standing. Chapman was at a locker near the base of the drain pipe which leads to a cistern beneath the room. The lightning burst down the pipe and spread into the room with a blinding flash. The men were shocked for a moment, but suffered no injuries. Since they were unaware that the building had been hit, each accused the other of attempting to play a prank until they were told what had occurred.

Debris from the tower fell into an alley at the south side of the station. William Hayden, manager of the Elk's club was shaken by vibrations from the lightning's crash as he stepped into the alley where it intersects South Main street between the A & P Store and the Ohio Associated Telephone company. Dust spread as far as the intersection of alleys midway between Main and State streets.

Bricks Loosened

The interior of the fire station was undamaged by the lightning. Bricks in the tower were loosened down to the level of a roof sheltering the old fire bell, a distance of about five feet below the break caused by the hit. Two circuit fuses in the station were knocked out.

About half an hour later firemen from Central station were called to the Marion-Reserve Power company sub-station at the rear of the Probst Supply company on North High street. Lightning struck a street lamp switch and ignited oil in which the switches are encased. Employes at the substation had almost put the blaze out with an extinguisher when firemen arrived with No. 1 truck and quad unit. Street lights were put out of commission, but service was resumed later. Lights were out in homes in several areas. Here, too, service was resumed shortly. House lights were put out when two wires on an East Center street circuit were broken.

Systems Damaged

A complete check had not been made this morning on all transformers, but Marion-Reserve Power company officials reported extensive damage to transmission and distribution systems.

No reports of fallen trees were received by the safety-service department, although limbs were knocked down. The state highway patrol reported a tree blocking Route 308 about one-half mile east of Iberia. The tree was removed last night and traffic continued uninterrupted.

Three Riders Prove Too Many for Stolen Bike

A guilty conscience resulted in the arrest yesterday afternoon of four Marion boys between the ages of 8 and 12 years. Police reported today they were being held until investigations of recent bicycle thefts are completed.

When police in a cruiser started to caution three boys who were riding on one bicycle, they abandoned the bicycle and ran. Police chased them and finally caught two of the riders in the west section of town. Two others were brought in later for investigation.

Not until the boys fled did police become suspicious and after investigating found the bicycle had been stolen earlier in the week from a Marion man. The four are being held at Marion county juvenile detention home.

Marion Co. Soldier Declared Dead, Another Listed Missing

Names of two more Marion county men in service figured in casualty list news today.

Out of the two years of silence that enveloped him when Corregidor fell came word that Sgt. Elwin C. Jones of Caledonia has been declared officially dead.

A Marion county aerial gunner, Sgt. James B. McDonald, has been reported missing in action over Austria.

Marion Aerial Gunner Missing in Action

Staff Sgt. James B. McDonald, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. McDonald, who are superintendent and matron of the Marion county juvenile detention home, has been missing in action since an air raid over Austria April 23, according to word received by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Thacker McDonald of East Church street.

The war department message gave no details, but said other information would follow.

Sgt. McDonald was a waist gunner on a Liberator bomber, and several weeks ago wrote about having completed his thirty-first mission against the enemy. Recently he and another gunner shared credit for shooting down a German fighter plane.

War news dispatches telling of air action over Austria the day Sgt. McDonald was reported missing described heavy bomber blows against vital aircraft plants. It said 47 Nazi planes were destroyed that day and that important installations at the Wiener-Neustadt aircraft factory, eight hangars and offices, barracks and warehouses at Badoveslau and Schwechat were wrecked or badly damaged. Seventeen allied aircraft, including 12 heavy bombers, were lost.

He had been in action overseas since last December, and had been in service since a few days after his marriage on Jan. 17, 1943. His wife, manager of the Marion theater, makes her home with her mother, Mrs. Nancy McGown of 210 East Church street.

Before entering service, Sgt. McDonald was employed for a year and a half at the Erie railroad offices here as a teletypist, and prior to that was a student at Harding High school. He took aerial gunnery training in this country at several fields in Colorado, Texas and Kansas.

His last letter to his wife was written April 22, and at the time he wrote it he seemed especially homesick.

His father is a former municipal court bailiff. He and Mrs. McDonald and Sgt. McDonald's younger brother, Ray, live at the county juvenile detention home.

Soldier Missing Two Years Declared Dead

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jones of Caledonia have been notified by the war department that their son, Sgt. Edwin C. Jones, reported missing for two years, has been officially declared dead. Sgt. Jones, a member of the 192nd Tank Battalion, was listed as missing on May 7, 1942 after the fall of Corregidor. In a letter from the Adjutant General's office, signed by Brig. Gen. Robert H. Dunlap, the parents were informed that although no actual date of death had been established, the date for legal purposes had been set as May 8, 1944.

Sgt. Jones graduated from Caledonia High school in 1936. He worked for the Erie Railroad. His last job for the Erie before he entered the service in January, 1941 was as a telegraph operator at Broadway. Leaving the country in October, 1941, Sgt. Jones was stationed for a short time in Hawaii. He arrived in the Philippine Islands the last of November the same year. The last letter from him was written on Nov. 27, 1941 at Fort Stotsenburg, P. I.

Sgt. Jones is survived by his parents and three brothers and two sisters. Two brothers are in the service, Earl Jones, motor machinist's mate third class, serving in the South Pacific, and Pvt. Elmo Jones, stationed at Camp Carson, Colo. The others are Kenneth Jones of Galion, Mrs. Robert Ross of Martel and Miss Florence Jones at home.

CLINTON COUNTY DRAFT BOARD QUITS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 18—Col. C. W. Goble, Ohio selective service director, said he would send an officer to Wilmington today to investigate the mass resignation of Clinton county's only draft board.

Goble reported he received a letter of resignation yesterday signed by all five members of the board, of which J. E. Orebaugh is chairman.

Resignation was in protest of a state selective service headquarters' order to postpone induction of a Wilmington bank teller, Goble said the letter stated. He said it was the first case where an entire board had quit.

The officer expressed confidence any difficulty could be worked out satisfactorily.

GUSTAV LINE IS DEMOLISHED AT ALL POINTS

Yanks Enter Coastal Anchor, British Seize Cassino and Poles Take Monastery.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, May 18—The British Eighth army has captured the battered town of Cassino and the battered hemispheric monastery, and American troops 25 miles to the southwest have seized the coastal hinge city of Formia, the Allied command announced today.

"The Gustav line now has ceased to exist," the announcement declared.

The double victory toppled strongpoints at both ends of the fiercely-fought Nazi line in Italy.

British troops stormed into Cassino — which had withstood siege since January — while Poles seized monastery hill. A substantial portion of the elite German first parachute division — the Green Devils — was wiped out in the two strongholds, a special announcement declared.

The German defenders of Cassino were encircled by tactics which avoided heavy casualties that would have resulted from frontal assaults such as were beaten back two months ago.

Enemy Outmaneuvered

A special Allied announcement declared "the enemy has been completely outmaneuvered by the Allied armies in Italy following the original breach of the Gustav line by the Fifth army on May 14, and the subsequent rapid advance of French and American troops through the mountains.

"Troops of the Eighth army have fought their way forward in the Liri valley and during the last 24 hours developed a decisive pincer movement which cut highway 6 (from Cassino to Rome) and so prevented the withdrawal of the enemy."

Earlier headquarters disclosed Polish troops had seized hill 593, northern hinge of both the Gustav and Hitler lines.

American troops struck within two miles of Piedimonte-Aquino way road junction commanding the only retreat route for the Nazis in the Formia and important Gaeta area. Itri is four miles northwest of Formia.

French Capture Esperia

French forces in the center won Esperia, outpost of the Hitler line, and French artillery from heights began shelling the road branching inland from Itri to Hitler line defenses in the Liri valley.

The hitherto-impregnable Cassino was doomed yesterday when the Eighth army allied across highway 6 two miles west of the battered town, cutting the enemy's retreat route.

A Berlin broadcast early this morning said the Cassino defenders had evacuated the town last night. Despite the enemy announcement, however, the allied command reported some resistance still was being encountered as a steel ring was tightened around both the town and monastery.

(A later Berlin broadcast said not only Cassino but the mountain and monastery above the town also were evacuated.

The German broadcast said the Nazi troops had pulled out of the stronghold "in order to withdraw to a shorter line in connection with movements south of their sector." The evacuation, Berlin said, was carried out "without any interference" and without any heavy guns falling to the allies although German rearguards fought off allied attacks.

Stalled Since January

The allies had been stalled before Cassino since January. On March 15 they reduced it to ruins by a gigantic aerial bombardment and New Zealand and other troops broke into the town. But the Germans held then.

Lynn Heinzerling, Associated Press war correspondent, said British big guns opened up against the ancient monastery yesterday with one of the heaviest bombardments ever seen in the Mediterranean theater.

Tanks supported the British troops in a step north from the Pignataro area to highway 6.

PLOESTI BOMBED BY U. S. AIRCRAFT

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, May 18—U. S. heavy bombers struck into the Balkans today, bombing Ploesti in Romania, and Belgrade and Nis in Yugoslavia.

Ploesti, the Romanian oil center, last was bombed May 5. Today's attack was by Flying Fortresses and Liberators escorted by Lightnings, Thunderbolts and Mustangs which helped fight off a number of enemy aircraft.

The rail yards at Belgrade and Nis were targets, with the air crews reporting good results. Weather prevented observation of the results at Ploesti, however.

Theft of $325 From Automobile Reported

Bert Holt of 619 Polk street reported to police at 2:15 a. m. today that approximately $325 was stolen from his car last night. The money, all in $10 and $20 bills, was stuffed into a tobacco pouch and slipped behind the seat of his car. When he discovered the theft, police said, the bag contained just one $20 bill.

Women Organizing To Demand Place at World Peace Table

DR. EMILY HICKMAN...

When she burns—a conflagration!

By ADELAIDE KERR
Associated Press Features Writer

...are going to fight for a ...now whether they can ...peace war.

...of them have already ...from the battle.

...were spurred into action ...woman delegate to ...'s disarmament conference—Mary E. Wooley, former president of Mt. Holyoke College.

And they are led by Dr. Emily Hickman, professor of history at the New Jersey College for Women and chairman of the National YWCA's Public Affairs Committee, who "burned" when she heard that those forming international conference groups declared they couldn't find qualified women for them.

Any time Dr. Hickman "burns" a conflagration starts. She's tiny, but she's mighty. The four million she heads are members of more than 60 women's organizations including the National Council of Women of the United States, the National Association of Women Lawyers, the National Board of the YWCA, the National Council of Negro Women, the National Woman's Party and the Women's Action Committee for Victory and Lasting Peace. Dr. Wooley, now retired at 81, called the woman's groups into action and Dr. Hickman, a close friend, heads the representation of their membership, which has been welded into the Committee for the Participation of Women in Post-War Planning.

Want Part in Planning

Its aim is to get women on the policy-forming groups which deal with post-war planning and peace.

"Women have a different attitude toward war than men," says Dr. Hickman. "In the first place, they are more conscious of the value of life. That is natural. In the second place, men, who are accustomed to handling war, think it is something which must always be, but women, out of inexperience and—if you will—even out of ignorance, are determined that war shall be ended. Many women in this country have done a great deal of study on the control of war. And they would take part in all these conferences with that goal in mind—that whatever is done must be done with the idea of controlling war.

"But they also have the technical skills and knowledge which would make it possible for them to contribute to the complicated arrangements which will have to be made if the world is to live in cooperative peace. We seek no representation for women just because they are women. They must be qualified too. But what most people don't realize is that there are an amazing number of qualified women. There are women economists, scientists, petroleum experts and experts in international law, among others, who could well serve on these policy forming groups. And this is the type of women we should like to see there."

Method of Procedure

When international conference groups are being formed, the Committee for the Participation of Women in Post-War Planning surveys its member organizations for eligible women, submits a selected list to the government official who is forming the American conference group and asks its member organizations to write him urging the appointment of women. For a possible forthcoming Anglo-American monetary conference, the committee submitted the names of Eleanor Dulles of the State department, Mabel Newcomer, head of Vassar's economics department and Alzada Comstock, head of Mt. Holyoke's economics department. It is preparing a list of nominees for a possible Anglo-American aviation conference and an Inter-American Economic Conference.

Finally the Committee for the Participation of Women in Post-War Planning has urged women's organizations in England and all the British Commonwealth to take similar action.

Foremen in Galion Plant Take Training

Special to The Star

GALION, May 18—That first aid cuts losses on the production front, is a fact keenly recognized by one of Galion's manufacturing plants, the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing company. Under the supervision of Miss Margaret Loris, director of personnel at the factory, the first foreman's first aid class ever conducted in Galion has been completed and 16 members have received their standard certificates. Those who completed the course are: W. D. Alder, Paul E. Darnschi, James Erfurt, John C. Findley, Lyman Fulton, Thomas Maddens, Helen Michel, Ro. R. Miller, L. F. Simonis, and Delbert Smith.

Charles E. Hinckley conducted the class at 1 p. m. each day, the men being counted on the job during the class period.

MRS. ALBERT DEWALT RITES

CRESTLINE, May 18—Mrs. Albert Dewalt, 71, died at her home in Leesville west of here Wednesday after several months illness. She was born Feb. 18, 1873, in New York City and came to this community 18 years ago. She was married in 1890 to Mr. Dewalt, who survives. Funeral will be held at the Otis Garverick funeral home at 2 p. m. Saturday.

GRAND PRAIRIE 8TH GRADERS GRADUATE

16 Get Certificates; Columbus Woman Speaks.

Mrs. Henry Ebert of Columbus was speaker last night at the Grand Prairie Eighth grade school commencement exercises. Her subject was "From Concentration Camp to Freedom." She outlined the conditions in Germany three years ago at the time of her escape from the country.

Mrs. Mildred Fleming presented graduation certificates to 16 eighth grade graduates. The invocation and benediction were offered by Rev. W. L. Cookston, pastor of the Mount and Green Camp Baptist church. Special music was furnished by the Junior High school orchestra and a vocal sextet composed of eighth grade girls. The program also included a clarinet solo by Mildred Temple and a piano duet by Mary Ellen Hinaroon and Ruth Fox.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills

Yank and Jap Pick Same Tree; Tokyo Loses

By The Associated Press

U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, CENTRAL PACIFIC AREA, May 18—Pfc. Andrew Leway of Akron, O., rehearsed a long time for the role he was to play with the 106th infantry regiment when the unit took part in the recent capturing of Eniwetok atoll. Then, he missed his cue and nearly lost his life.

Leway was crawling through underbrush when he paused behind a tree. He quickly was called from his rest by Pvt. Romanchak of Cleveland, O., who yelled over there was a Jap on the other side of the tree.

Both Leway and the Jap went into action, coming around the same side of the tree.

He explains, "suddenly we were looking into each other's eyes. He was as surprised as I was. I brought my rifle up and it jammed. I starting clearing it. I don't know what the Jap was doing all the time, but the next time I looked he still was standing there. I pulled the trigger. This time it worked."

"I owe Romanchak a debt I never can pay," says Leway, "you see, I promised to buy him all the beer he could drink for telling me about that Jap behind the tree. He later was killed."

N. Y. Twins Share Play and Death Together

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 18—Four-year-old Irene Richie and her twin brother, Richard, were inseparable, sharing everything, always looking out for each other.

Yesterday they started playing together on a grassy plot near the East river. Grown-ups told them to be careful. But the twins apparently were so engrossed in each other they paid no heed.

Suddenly other children shouted. Irene, they said, had toppled into the water, been swept away in the riptide. Richard had jumped in after her. They last were seen together.

Police are grappling for the children, one of four sets of twins born to Mr. and Mrs. William Richie.

ADA, O.—Robert I. Ingalls of Birmingham, Ala., America's ranking independent fabricator of structural steel, will receive an honorary degree from his alma mater, Ohio Northern university following his delivery of the commencement address here next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A native of Huntsville, O., Mr. Ingalls, in the two shipyards of the Ingalls Shipbuilding Corp., is turning out numerous aircraft carriers, troopships, combat, cargo and cargo-passenger ships. This corporation is the originator of all-welded ships.

The subject of Ingalls' commencement address is "The Business of Life."

Report Woman's Body Found in Plane Wreck

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 18—The body of a "woman in uniform" was among the dead crew of a British bomber which crashed in the Danish village of Gaimotte near Aarens Monday, Berlin radio said today.

"It was assumed that the woman was a British war reporter," said DNB, quoting a Copenhagen report.

There has been no announcement of the loss of a war correspondent in recent aerial operations and in London press circles it was regarded as unlikely that a woman reporter would be on such an assignment.

One theory advanced here was that the "woman in uniform" might have been an adventurous girl flying with connivance of the crew. In the past there have been rumors of women donning uniforms and making unauthorized flights.

NEW LIQUOR RATION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 18—State Liquor Director Don H. Fisher announced today Ohio's new liquor rationing period beginning May 22 would extend through July 1 and that whisky and domestic gin purchases would be limited to one quart, one-fifth or two points for each ration card holder, the same as for the current period. Rationing restrictions recently were removed from all other liquor and wine sales.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

New Version of an Old American Tradition

We were sitting on Ed Carey's porch, enjoying a friendly glass of beer, when a squadron of fighter planes goes over—in tight formation—swift and trim and powerful.

"There," says Ed proudly, "goes an American tradition."

"What do you mean, tradition?" Eben Crowell says. "America's a hundred sixty years old—flying's the newest thing there is."

"But those planes," says Ed, "they're the best in the world—the best made and the best flown. That's what I mean by an American tradition: making things, doing things, just a little better, whether it's an airplane or a railroad or a glass of fine American beer like this."

And from where I sit, Ed has put his finger on what makes America great—and will keep her great. The urge to do things just a little better—from the planes we make to the glass of beer that we enjoy. Things to be proud of—all of them!

Marion Man To Preside at Ohio Teachers Meeting

A number of Marion teachers will attend, and George W. Wilson of Harding High school faculty, president, will preside for the one-day convention of the Ohio Federation of Teachers, Saturday, at the Chittenden Hotel in Columbus. Representing the Marion Federation of Teachers will be Mr. Wilson, Harold D. Runkle, Lamoyne Green, Paul Bingman, Miss Grace Wingett and Miss Emma Duerr. Mr. Runkle, Mr. Green, Miss Wingett and Miss Duerr are members of the state convention committees.

Matters of importance to be discussed include problems raised by the scarcity of properly qualified teachers; more equitable taxation and distribution of state school funds; desirable changes in the State Teachers' Retirement System; more widespread adoption of the single salary schedule; legislative and congressional reapportionment in Ohio; reports of standing committees and election of officers.

Mark Starr, educational director of the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union, will be the guest speaker. His subject will be "Education and Freedom from Want."

As a labor consultant for OWI he toured Britain for seven weeks during 1943, speaking at army camps and in workshops.

Wire Recorder To Bring Battle Noises To Radio

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 18 — When invasion comes, the wire recorder, a device which puts sound on a wire for reproduction, apparently is to get much use in front-line broadcasting. Something of a preview is being given in the new Italian offensive.

NBC, which heretofore has employed similar transcriptions only in rare instances, has cut it on the network a few times. CBS, which also has a rule against recordings, expects to put on the recorder only where a line pickup is not available. The BLU and MBS, which do not restrict recordings to as great an extent, have used it more frequently.

With the recorder, the front-line broadcaster can do a pickup much closer to the scene of activity than if he tried to take along a radio microphone.

It takes a rubber tree six years to mature.

TREE GROWS IN OREGON

By International News Service

CANYON CITY, Ore — A little tree in Canyon City bears sour apples the size of walnuts that don't drop off in the fall. Although it is more than 50 years old, the tree only measures 42 inches in diameter. Each year, it puts forth its hard apples which remain on the branches until spring. Then, the apples turn brown and sweet with the birds throughout the countryside raging a terrific battle for them.

Of North Carolina's area, about 3,620 square miles are water.

Confusion Makes a Bad Policy

CHESTER BOWLES, OPA administrator, has been praised for ridding his agency of much of the characteristic Washington muddling of the last decade. But the confusion caused by the switch in point values has taken some of the shine off his accomplishment.

If Mr. Bowles knew OPA was going to announce suspension of ration values on meat, why was he telling the public simultaneously in a nationally circulated magazine that this would be impossible? If he knew the suspension was going to be temporary, as he more recently has explained it will be to a congressional committee, why did he not include the word "temporary" in the announcement?

In short, the resulting confusion has given rise to doubts about Mr. Bowles' status as an independent administrator which will increase the problems of his job. Confusion makes a bad policy, even when the intent is good. The suspicion is roused that Mr. Bowles may have been the victim of the muddling he was resolved to eradicate in his administration of an important public agency, that he was obliged to lend himself to a manipulation which had more to do with politics than with the distribution of food.

Service in Little Things

ONE of the major problems in running a war is the fact that everybody wants to do the big things. It wouldn't be hard to get plenty of people to carry the flag but few flagbearers are needed. What the war machine needs is the spirit which will make everybody willing to do the obscure jobs.

Waste paper salvage is a vital war assignment but tons of paper are burned when it should be reaching the salvage stations. Blood plasma is a must in saving the lives of wounded men but thousands of ablebodied men and women have never given a pint. Gardens are essential to feeding the wartime nation but everywhere are fertile lots which grow only weeds while nearby are many persons who get their vegetables from the grocers. Pounds of kitchen fat go into the drains when they should be making explosives to pour on Germany.

We know from unquestionable sources that our enemies are not wasting an ounce of material or manpower. They have been trained to a life of economy. This country, with a normal abundance of everything, has grown up with the habit of waste.

Every American of every age can help to make Victory more sure and to bring it sooner. Service in little things will help to shorten the war and therefore to save lives. It is a tragic thing to waste anything that our service men need and time is one of the most essential ingredients of Victory, whether employed in a great factory producing the tools of war or at home where the little things which mean much in the general plan of campaign have their beginning.

Job for OWI

THERE is misunderstanding about the objectives of gasoline rationing. Needs have changed since the first drive for tire conservation after Japan seized most of the world's sources of natural rubber.

Tire conservation is still an objective and will continue to be so. But to tire conservation was added, as the nation's war effort developed, a second objective—fuel conservation. It, too, continues to be an objective. But now a third objective also is acutely important.

It is automobile conservation. This is the year when, statistically, the existing supply of automobiles must be seriously cut down by a high rate of use without adequate replacements. Cars with high mileage when the automobile industry was converted to war production already are in the junk pile, or on the brink. Cars with mileage left in them must be made to last indefinitely. National welfare is so closely tied up to the use of automobiles that they must be conserved.

Any citizen who claims the right to use his car to suit his own purposes, without regard to the purpose it serves in the nation's transportation, is taking a shortsighted view of his responsibility. If OWI were to declare officially what now is a major consideration in mileage rationing, the gravity of the growing car shortage would answer the thoughtless argument that executive whimsy is behind every new inconvenience in gasoline allowances.

So They Say—

A balanced budget at the earliest possible time after the war is won will create more jobs than all the projects that government can devise.—Gov. Bricker of Ohio.

What Americans must be aware of is the peace propaganda of the junkers and the German industrialists and bankers. If Americans make the mistake of sympathizing with this group and with the "poor German people" as they did after 1918, their sons will have to fight a third world war.—Emil Ludwig, author.

I hope every American who possibly can will grow a Victory Garden this year. We found out last year that even the small gardens helped . . . made the difference between scarcity and abundance.—President Roosevelt.

News Behind the News

Gen. Alexander's Choice of 11 P. M. To Open Drive Gives Attackers Some Advantage.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 18—The suspension hour for the Anzio campaign to free the Gustav line was one you would have expected—11 p. m.

Usually the new hour for the start of daily attacks is a matter of military secrecy and not announced. But the British General Alexander used precisely the most dangerous black night moment for the successful surprise assault upon El Alamein line to begin. He is apparently the only general who was able to get around the fixed defensive requirement to open ground offensives in the dark.

It is his theory that if every officer knows exactly what is expected of him, the power of defense and of the attacking force especially a defending force are then most easily mounted. He starts off with artillery preparation in advance of the attack in order to let movements of troops and tanks move under fields and the infantry follows close behind the troopers.

Advantage of Darkness

In this way, the attacking force knows what it is doing while the defense does not, and enemy artillery is particularly deficient against the advancing infantry.

Surprisingly and deliberately also, General Alexander has been playing down secrecy from the front in his communiques. His announcement for the first five days of this great operation were limited to one paragraph each, usually containing two sentences of exceptionally restrained language.

This is traceable to an arrangement made in advance by the United Nations staff that the usual whooping and enthusiasm, claims, threats, or promises associated with military offensives are to be avoided and that statements about the progress of the fighting may not, therefore, take even final appearance.

The battle is not heading as fast upon the Rome Gustav line as many people have been implied to believe. The reason one was the order of the British up their right salient a few miles south of Cassino.

The Germans expected the British Commander to turn north of the town, but the British kept pushing their mountain personnel to fall upon the road to Rome. Indeed, we are within a few of the road within three days.

The Real Push

But the Liri river attack was the real threat to Cassino, although not in the direction of the town. Your map will show you that the Liri valley leads westward from a sharp cutting northward five or six miles across the same Cassino-Rome road far in the rear of the German advance positions. That was the spearhead upon which we mainly depended to cut off Cassino.

German resistance on both these fronts was rather strenuous, particularly at Cassino, but the French landing thrust (No. 2) found fairly easy going farther down the line southward, halfway to the sea. There, fewer German troops were encountered than expected.

At the southern end of the line, the American landing thrust (No. 3) had the aid of British and American war ships, whose guns penetrated halfway to Cassino as a matter of fact.

Nazis Weak in Air

The Germans were found to be very weak in the air, offered no more than 20 to 30 planes in the air at a time, and most of these were used in bombarding ships and roads in the rear.

A check of their strength indicated the presence of about 18 Nazi divisions (270,000 men) on the Gustav front, Anzio beachhead line, and in reserve held between both points. This was not an unexpected strength.

We went in with planes everywhere, and with tanks at some points, but the tanks could not be used freely until we spread out in the valleys, as there are few roads in the entire battle area.

Crimean Appraisal

The Nazis claim to have removed all their men from the Crimea successfully, while the Russians claim 111,000 casualties, of which about half (61,587) were captured, significantly omitting mention of any wounded.

This omission is probably due to the German practice of removing wounded day by day from all fronts, but the truth of the losses will be difficult to decide.

The situation now is this:

The Russians have their armies of the Crimea free for use elsewhere. Their Rumanian attack has been halted long enough to allow them to establish communications.

These two factors assure new and heavier Russian action, and the Germans are in daily fear there as on the western front.

Indians Losing Land

By The Associated Press

DENVER — John Collier, Indian commissioner, reported recently that of approximately 55,000,000 acres of Indian lands, 33,000,000 acres are "near the critical erosion stage." He said a business-like range management is being applied as a remedy.

Daily Bible Thought

God sometimes seems to be entirely indifferent to his people. Without God's sifting his people would long since have perished from the earth and their memory forgotten: "I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations, like as grain is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain be kernel fall upon the earth."—Amos 9:9.

—Medicine's Golden Decade—

Mental Cases Go Under Knife

By SCHUYLER ALLMAN
Associated Press Writer

DR. EGAS MONIZ of Paris drew his surgical line high on the forehead of the patient and cut boldly into the skull.

He sent his knife deftly probing into the cortex of the brain to sever some of the nerve fibers of the prefrontal lobes.

Dr. Moniz was not repairing the damage of a brain injury. He was operating in an effort to relieve the patient of psychosis.

Surprisingly, there was little shock, and few complications in his report of 1936 on this sort of operation. Dr. Moniz said patients showed "remarkable improvement within a short time."

Dr. Moniz was not, with assurance at last, and a lot of opposition for here was a seemingly radical approach to one of medicine's most baffling problems—the treatment of the mentally ill.

But by shock and by surgery the work went on and in 1942 two American neurologists brought in a favorable report on the latter.

They were Dr. Walter Freeman, professor of neurology, and Dr. James W. Watts, associate professor of neurosurgery at George Washington university.

Patients Go Back To Work

Results were good in 98 out of 136 operations, they said, and fair in 23 others.

"Enough patients now have been returned to their homes able to work who previously had to be confined in institutions to make us optimistic about eventual results," they wrote.

Results, however, were disappointing in schizophrenia, a common and severe mental disorder, and the doctors admitted that even in the successes the patients lost something by the operation.

The recovered patient is apt to be tactless, hasty, laughs more and flares up frequently.

But brooding patients cease to brood, those with obsessions lose them or no longer let themselves be plagued by them, hallucinations chase themselves away and homicidal tendencies subside.

Dr. Freeman and Dr. Watts warned that the operation could not be performed on those with aggressive, psychopathic, criminal or alcoholic traits because their behavior afterward would be intolerable.

DR. WALTER FREEMAN

Shock Plagued by Relapses

A lot of the success with which shock treatment appeared to be flushed when it first came into vogue faded when the final returns came in with reports of relapses.

In shock therapy, patients are thrown into momentary unconsciousness by potent doses of insulin, metrazol or electricity.

These methods also have little effect on schizophrenia beyond a temporary improvement, but they have proved valuable aids to the psychiatrist in treating other forms of mental illnesses.

In recent years, some hospitals have abandoned insulin shock for electric shock, since the latter is easier to give and control and has the same effect.

Both shock and surgery are drastic, both have been dogged with failure, but both hold promise for the future in psychiatry.

Civilian Statesmen Not As Well Prepared for Invasion As the Fighting Men.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IN THE battle for Europe the civilian statesmen are, unhappily, much less well prepared than are the soldiers. The main roads to Germany are through France and Poland but the political leaders have not yet effected that unity and co-ordination which the liberating armies have a right to expect, which a firm settlement with Germany and a durable peace in Europe demand.

There is no French government, and there is no Polish government which all the Allies recognize and work with.

Because of this we face an awful risk of dividing the action of the patriot forces, we are gambling with the chances of disorder and even civil war, and we are in imminent peril of imposing terms on the enemy which may not be enforceable because they lack the wholehearted support of our two most important allies within continental Europe.

Neither in the case of France nor in the case of Poland are the issues irreconcilable. But agreement can be had only if all concerned will look forward to their primary objective, not backward to their grievances.

Need France and Poland

The paramount fact is that without a strong France and without a strong Poland, the German wars of agression cannot be ended conclusively: Great Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States will never be finished with the grim task of watching Germany.

If France and Poland are weak, disunited and resentful, they will become the fertile ground of intrigue and manœuver for the disruption of the settlement and the restoration of the German military power.

To be strong in order that they may play their indispensable part, both France and Poland need governments pledged without equivocation to make their accounting to their peoples, but with undisputed authority at home and abroad during the period of the invasion, the liberation and the initial armistice. They need settled frontiers agreed to by all. They need to be consulted on, and their consent should be obtained to, the terms which are to be imposed upon Germany.

These are not impossible requirements, and if the civilian statesmen do not meet them, they will have much to answer for. There is no intelligible reason why the French policy enunciated in Secretary Hull's speech of April 9, 1944, should not be put into effect, why the President should not be promoting the policy announced by his secretary of state.

President's Stand Hit

An interim French authority must exist on French soil from the moment any French city is liberated. To go into France without a French authority which has full United Nations support is to invite and indeed to encourage every adventurer, every leader of a faction, every hesitant and ambitious coterie to plot and to finagle for our favor.

If it is said that we do not know whether the French nation is wholly behind Gen. de Gaulle and the Algiers committee, the answer is that the President's personal attitude is a direct encouragement to the French to nurse their differences and not to unite.

The answer is that, for the first stage of the liberation, it is the fighting French, not the sitting French, to whom we must look for the support of our armies. The answer is that the only way to ascertain the true will of the French nation is to hold elections when France is free, but who in the name of common sense is to organize elections, register the voters, print the ballots and count them if there is no provisional French government?

Polish Problem

The Polish question is much more difficult. But it is not insoluble. The Soviet Union needs, indeed cannot get along without a strong, independent and friendly Poland. Anything less than that will render abortive a lasting settlement in Europe, and will turn the whole region west of the Soviet frontiers into a seething, envenomed threat to the security of Russia.

Poland needs, otherwise she cannot hope to survive as an independent state, to become allied with the Soviet Union and with all her eastern neighbors. There is no future for a Poland governed, or even influenced, by those Poles who, even before they are liberated from the Nazis, conceive themselves as the spearpoint of a hostile coalition against the Soviet Union. That there are Poles in places of authority today who take this view, no one who is informed about the facts can possibly deny.

A Polish-Soviet agreement is obtainable if the Moscow government will make its first consideration the need for a truly friendly Polish nation, if the Polish government in London will make itself capable of being the honest ally of the Soviet Union.

In its simplest terms the plain fact is that, there are three or four members of the Polish government whom the Soviets will never trust, and with good reason. The equally plain fact is that the Polish nation has a very good claim to a better frontier than the Curzon Line, particularly as respects the very Polish city of Lwow, which has never at any time been a part of Russia, and in regard to Vilna, which means much more to the Poles than it can ever mean to the Soviets.

A settlement requires moral resolution by the Polish leaders to reconstruct their government, and by Stalin the magnanimity which recognizes that to win the consent of the Poles is worth infinitely more to the Soviets everywhere in this world than to hold two cities.

Bonds on the Waters

By The Associated Press

OTTAWA, Kan.—H. D. Smith left a trunk containing $1,500 in war bonds in his office. A flood floated the trunk away. Later it was found in East Ottawa and although it was broken and some of the contents were missing the bonds were intact.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO.

It was Friday, May 18, 1934.

Announcement was made that control of the C., D. & M. Electric Co. had passed to the Utility Service Co. of New York under terms of an agreement reached by banking creditors. The Utility Service Co. was an affiliate of the Manufacturers Trust Co. of New York.

William Bradley, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Bradley of the Prospect pike, was credited with saving the life of Nathan Gay, 10, member of the senior class at Pleasant township school, when the latter nearly drowned at Owens quarry where a student group had gone swimming after community day picnic activities at the school.

Mrs. Chester Hatcher, 50, was struck in the hip by a stray bullet as she sat on the porch of her home in Kenton, holding a small granddaughter in her lap. The bullet was from the gun of one of a group of boys shooting rats along a nearby creek.

Selection of Oliver Rowley and Walter Ruzzo as editors of the Herald, Harding High school paper, and the Quiver, yearbook, respectively, for the next school year was announced.

The Marion County Democratic executive committee indorsed J. Merrit Ruckman for the postmastership at LaRue.

Ernest Davis, 14, of Nye street successfully defended his title as city marble champion in tournament finals at Central Junior High school grounds.

Millard Hunt of Marion was elected vice president of the central division of the Ohio Coal conference at Columbus.

George W. Tschanen, 76, druggist in Marion and Upper Sandusky for 40 years, died at the home of a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Bowman in Upper Sandusky.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

It was Sunday, May 18, 1924.

American army fliers led by Lt. Lowell H. Smith in an attempted around-the-world flight arrived at Hittokapu, island of Yeterofu, on their hop to Japan.

The five-year fight to give America's World war veterans a federal bonus was finally won when the senate passed the bonus bill over President Coolidge's veto, 59 to 26. It had previously been passed over the veto by the house.

Rev. Marion Flint of Cedar Edge, Col., accepted a call to the pastorate of the Prospect Baptist church.

The Marion Clowns defeated the Galion Athletics in a game at Galion, 10 to 4. Marshall pitched for Marion and Cowell and Myers for Galion.

Mrs. Frances Dowell, Mrs. C. C. Brady and C. G. Rutler were in Kenton attending the funeral of their uncle, John Guckenberger.

Just a village of between 300 and 400 people on the Minnesota border. You know, the kind of a place with a feed store, a grain elevator, a cemetery, a cluster of stores, the center and some houses back through the trees.

Year: 1921.

Warren Harding: "Back to normalcy. Forget the war." We're the [illegible] with all that. "The Huns are done for." Woodrow: "I want another war for [illegible] years."

"Hear the news? The Bongs have a son!"

"Yep. Baby boy."

"Nice going."

"Greatest kid you ever saw."

"That's what they all say. All fathers think their own kid is the greatest."

"Maybe so, but there's sumpin' about this one."

"Best of luck anyhow, old man. Hope he'll grow up to be a pride and comfort to you and the Missus!"

Down the Stretch

BY TRUMAN TWILL

They are coming into the stretch! That is the supposed big moment in horse racing. But they dont know what a really big moment looks like in that racket.

When an American family comes into the stretch after a hard winter and a tough spring and struggles to get over the finish line into summer—that is a big moment.

Because if Junior bends all the way over, it means the seat of his pants will disintegrate—the pants he must make last till school is out and he can go nauve.

And if Junior's old man takes a deep breath before it is warm enough to put on the coats that still had mileage left in it at the end of last summer, his tattered suit will disintegrate like a picnic in a thunderstorm. He has been forbidden on pain of exposure to move his arms, kneel, or make any sudden moves until the first of June.

And if Junior's sister can't make her school dress do for so many more hours, minutes and seconds, it will mean her education must be stopped while she goes into retirement and waits for a fresh shipment of wearing apparel, which in turn must wait on a rebate for Morgenthau.

And if Junior's mama cannot sidestep all social engagements and meetings until it is warm enough to be seen in public without a coat, the truth will have to come out that her winter coat went the way of the one-hoss shay just about the time she turned into the stretch—which is not to be confused with the home stretch, either.

There is only enough coal left in the cellar to make one good big cloud of smoke there is nothing left to break into pieces for kindling, the salvage drive has taken all the paper, the flue to the chimney is almost rusted through and one more cold day would bring on disaster.

Everything is on the ragged edge of complete exhaustion and held together and kept going only by the fact it has been that way at the same time each year since time immemorial. Families have turned into the stretch with their patience and elbows worn dangerously thin and have stumbled over the finish line into a change of seasons with nothing to spare.

They used to run out of salt pork and cornmeal and now they run out of shoes and vitamins, but the principle is the same. They still look the same as they come down the stretch, not knowing whether they can make it, coming apart at the seams, but always getting there somehow. If the horse racing people want to see a camera finish, they should come around and get a closeup of a family at the end of a long hard winter.

Galion and Marion Erie Veterans Receive Pins

C. B. Kingsbury and Elwood E. Phipps of Galion, Edward Rudolph and William Flanigan of Marion were presented 40-year pins and Homer E. Stone of Marion received a 25-year emblem in recognition of their continuous membership in Buckeye Lodge No. 35, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Tuesday night, when the lodge met at the Legion Dugout.

Allan A. Cook and Henry Sheehe of Galion, who were to have received emblems in recognition of their 50 years of membership in the lodge, were unable to attend the meeting because of illness. The presentation was made by Ray Wilson, president of the lodge. With the exception of Mr. Rudolph and Mr. Stone the men honored at the meeting all are retired conductors on the Kent division of the Erie railroad. Mr. Cook and Mr. Sheehe will receive their pins by mail or from a member of the lodge.

It was announced that meetings will be held only on the first meeting night of the month through June, July and August. The next meeting will be the first Tuesday night in June. A smoker and social hour followed the lodge session.

Social Affairs

A DINNER preceded the formal installation of officers when Alpha chapter, Gradale sorority met last evening at Hotel Harding. Yellow tapers lighted the table laid in the presidential suite and the centerpiece was a bouquet of lilacs. Informal talks were given by Miss Catherine Watson, retiring primus, and Mrs. Richard Thibaut, who will serve as primus for the coming year. Mrs. Maurice Whitcum gave a reading, "China Blue Eyes," and Mrs. H. E. Webster, founder of Delta Alpha chapter of Springfield, was a guest speaker. Her theme was "New Shirts," and her talk centered on sorority activities.

Installed with Mrs. Thibaut were Miss Virginia Koons, pro-primus; Mrs. Jack Nelson, tribune; Mrs. Ira Bishman, corresponding tribune; Mrs. William Collins, quaestor; Mrs. Joseph Berwanger, reporter. Retiring officers are Miss Watson, Mrs. Maurice Whitcum, pro primus; Mrs. Jack Lautenslager, tribune; Mrs. Richard Thibaut, quaestor, and Miss Wini Ballenger, reporter.

During the evening the members presented a gift to Miss Mary Roby whose marriage to Kent Pool of Chicago will take place in an open church ceremony Sunday at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Thibaut announced the following committees for the new year: program, Miss Virginia Koons, chairman, Mrs. Donald Garver, Mrs. Lee Peck, Mrs. Gerald Smart; social, Miss Catherine Watson, chairman, Mrs. Don Preuninger, Miss Martha Hord; civic welfare, Mrs. Don Quaintance, chairman; council, Mrs. Jack Nelson, chairman, Miss Watson, Mrs. Garver and Mrs. Richard Thibaut; finance, Mrs. William Collins, Mrs. Richard Langdon, Mrs. Robert McConnell calling Mrs. Don Wertman, Miss Eileen Solomon, Miss Wini Ballenger, Miss Dorothy Wenninger; absence, Miss June Wise; publicity, Mrs. Joseph Berwanger, Mrs. C. R. Henney; historian, Mrs. Fred Raab; flower, Mrs. Robert Keller; chaplain, Mrs. Richard Jordan.

Awards were won by Miss Solomon, Mrs. Wertman and Miss Watson. The chapter will meet for a box picnic at McKinley park June 7.

MRS. ANSON E. PICKEREL and Mrs. Marion Clark entertained a few friends last evening at the home of Mrs. Pickerel at 324 Forest street for the pleasure of Mrs. E. J. Malloy, who with her daughter, Ruth, will leave in the near future for an extended stay in Sarasota, Fla. The evening was spent socially and Mrs. Malloy was presented a gift from the group.

Sgt. Richard Lehman who will return to Camp Roberts, Calif., on May 23, was honored when his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Lehman of 204 Fies avenue entertained relatives and friends over the week-end. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lehman, Miss Jean Golden and Clarabelle and Dwaine Lehman, all of Lima and Mrs. Naomi Lehman and daughter, Nancy Lee of Marion.

Members of the Euterpean club entertained their mothers at a dinner in Ringer's Inn Monday evening. Mrs. Ernest Weiss, guest speaker, discussed home life in China. Mothers and guests were presented corsages of sweetpeas and lillies of the valley.

Contest awards went to Mrs. Weiss and Mrs. Robert Moderwell. Mrs. Tracy Zachman led devotions. A piano solo was played by Mrs. Cecil Dale and musical selections were also presented by the club chorus. Guests included Mrs. Edward Uhle, Mrs. W. L. Mumaw, Mrs. J. Endicott, Mrs. Elmer Herrnlf, Mrs. W. D. Martin, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Harley Zachman, Mrs. Emerson Hartz, Mrs. Katherine Pellmeth, Mrs. Erwin Zachman, Mrs. A. S. Bucyrus To Install New Parking Meters

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, May 17—Bucyrus city council approved an appropriation of $25,000 for engineering services for needed improvements to the city water works distribution system and also authorized a contract for installation of parking meters at the regular session Tuesday night.

Approval of the expenditure for engineers is the result of an ultimatum handed down by the state underwriters a year ago advising that the city's water system was inadequate for fire protection. Old wooden water mains are deteriorating to the extent that any added water pressure causes breaks in the system. As high as eight breaks have occurred within three days, council was advised by Mayor R. L. Hertzer when the improvement was discussed.

A contract for furnishing, installation, lease and purchase of 200 parking meters, more or less, was authorized by council. Automatic meters were designated in the legislation and installation will be on the basis of a nine month lease with the rental receipts to be applied to the purchase if the city decides to buy the meters.

MANSFIELD BANKER HEADS OHIO GROUP

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 18—Paul M. Eliot of Mansfield, vice president of the Ohio Bankers association, today was elevated to the presidency during the association's 54th annual meeting here. He succeeds Emerson J. Boyd of Warren.

Howard C. Hudson of Wilmington was named vice president and Rodney P. Lien of Cleveland was reelected treasurer.

Dr. Willard E. Atkins, professor of economics at New York university, told the bankers that in the post-war era international monetary controls would not be too helpful if political instability and unbalanced budgets existed in Europe.

Ohio's bankers were urged yesterday to discourage cashing of war bonds during the postwar era.

Eliot told the bankers "we cannot afford to have an avalanche of redemption of these securities. It is to our interest to discourage their redemption. If large amounts are redeemed, the banks will only add to their portfolios of bonds to replace those redeemed."

E. D. Reese of Newark urged a broadening of the financial life of banks and suggested that bankers prepare now to engage in postwar activity.

Nearly half of the earthworm species found in the northeastern U. S. came originally from Europe.

Truck Driver Fined After Ambulance Crash

GALION, May 18—In an accident that involved a Galion ambulance and a commercial truck, Joseph Vecchio, 21, of Cleveland, driver of the truck was held and tried on charges of unsafe operation.

Vecchio was fined $10 and costs in Mayor William Amann's court Wednesday.

Vecchio's trailer to his truck sideswiped the Volk ambulance of Galion about 7 a. m., Wednesday, at the curve in the road on Route 30-S just east of Rudy's Inn.

Mansfield State Highway patrolmen said Vecchio was driving on the wrong side of the curve. The ambulance was badly damaged. Herman Volk was driving with a passenger to Mansfield General hospital to return a patient to Galion.

Former Marionite, Upper Sandusky Soldier Married

MR. AND MRS. EDWIN J. DUMM of Cleveland, formerly of Marion are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Bonnie Jane, to Staff Sgt. Paul L. Gilliland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil M. Gilliland of Upper Sandusky. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain Harry W. Allen in the chapel at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., May 11 at 4 p. m.

For her wedding the bride wore a two-piece brown suit with white accessories. Her flowers were yellow roses and babysbreath. Pvt. Norman H. Hill of Boston, Mass., and Pvt. Harold L. Getty of Detroit, attended the couple.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was given at Thompson's restaurant in Biloxi and later the party enjoyed music and dancing at the Marine room of the Buena Vesta Hotel.

Mrs. Gilliland attended school in Marion and graduated from Upper Sandusky High school in 1940. She also graduated from Christ Hospital School of Nursing in Cincinnati several months ago and since then has been on the staff at Ft. Hamilton Hospital, in Hamilton. Staff Sgt. Gilliland was a graduate of Upper Sandusky High school in 1939 and enlisted in the Air Corps in January, 1941. He received his training at Randolph Field, Foster Field and Clemson College, Clemson, S. C. For the present the couple will live in Biloxi.

Word of the wedding follows the announcement in Saturday's Star of the marriage of the bride's sister, Miss Ruth Eloise Dumm to Pvt. Francis R. Hetzel which took place May 9 in Upper Sandusky.

TWO OLD ISSUES BOB UP AGAIN

Labor and Negro Vote Return To National Political Picture.

By The Associated Press

The returning issues of organized labor in politics and Negro voting in the south combined today to add some tartness to the 1944 campaign distinguished chiefly so far by the steady accumulation of Democratic convention votes for a fourth term for President Roosevelt and a long lead for Governor Dewey of New York in the Republican nomination contest.

In Washington, Representative Smith (D-Va) proposed yesterday that the house of representatives investigate campaign expenditures and contributions to political campaigns by individuals, corporations or labor unions.

Such an inquiry, he said, might "open the eyes" of Attorney General Biddle who recently said he had found no illegal action by the CIO Political Action Committee.

Introduces Outlaw Bill

And Representative Shafer (R-Mich) introduced legislation to outlaw the organization of foremen's unions, saying it was prompted by a "disgraceful and unwarranted walkout" involving supervisory employes in the Detroit area.

Chairman May (D-Ky) of the military committee said he could not predict what action it would take on Shafer's bill, but some other members said privately that probably nothing would be done for some time.

The issue of Negro voting came up pointedly yesterday in South Carolina where the Democratic state convention flatly rejected a request that the Progressive (Negro) party be allowed eight of the 18-man convention delegation.

In other actions, the South Carolina Democrats named an uninstructed delegation; defeated an anti-fourth term candidate for state chairman but recommended that the tenure of a president be limited to two four-year terms, and voted to call another state convention after the national convention to consider its decisions.

The Arkansas Democratic convention chose 20 uninstructed convention delegates, but adjourned without taking action on changing party rules to permit Negroes to vote in local and state elections.

On the Republican side, a nine-man uninstructed delegation was chosen in Vermont, but there was much support reported in it for Dewey.

Republicans in Mississippi today have a factional fight in the effort of an independent group to put through six non-pledged delegates to contest the seating at the Chicago convention of the group led by Perry Howard, Negro, and claimed for Gov. Bricker of Ohio.

In other actions today Illinois Republicans choose nine delegates-at-large to round out their delegation of 59, District of Columbia Republicans choose three in convention and Vermont Democrats selected six in convention.

Body of Missing Indian Student Found in River

By The Associated Press

YONKERS, N. Y., May 18—The Hudson river today had yielded the body of Vasa Matthai, wealthy 22-year-old Indian student missing from Columbia university nearly two months, but circumstances of her death remained clouded in mystery.

Acting Westchester County Medical Examiner Edwin M. Huntington said the dark-eyed Bombay, India, girl, who disappeared from a Riverside drive dormitory during a pre-dawn snowstorm March 20, had died by drowning.

He did not attempt to explain, however, how she got in the water.

The medical examiner said no bruises or marks of violence were found on her body and remarked it would be impossible to detect any traces of poison in a body which had been in the river so long.

Huntington said he would not perform an autopsy as it would disclose nothing not apparent in his first examination.

Miss Matthai's body was found last night by a boatman. It was floating in midstream here about seven miles up the river from Columbia university.

Acting Capt. John J. Cronin of the New York missing persons bureau identified the body through a serial number on a wrist watch found on the dead girl's arm.

Object of one of the most intensive searches in New York police history since she disappeared from her room at International House, Miss Matthai was the daughter of John Matthai, head of the Tata Chemical Co. of Bombay, and an Indian economist, author and government official.

Court Takes Kenton Case Under Advisement

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., May 18 — The third district appellate court yesterday took under advisement the plea of Richard Knight, 38-year-old indicted robbery-murderer, for his freedom on grounds that he has been held in prison continuously for more than two consecutive terms of Hardin county common pleas court.

The man, who pleaded guilty of first degree murder and was sentenced 10 years ago without a trial, obtained his release from Ohio penitentiary by a similar plea of illegal sentencing and imprisonment without a trial. The present common pleas judge of Hardin county, Arthur D. Tudor, overruled a motion to discharge the prisoner recently and ordered him held for trial.

Knight, together with Ben S. Curl who is serving a life term for first degree murder, and Glenn Neal, who turned state's evidence and served a manslaughter term at Mansfield reformatory, was indicted for first degree murder in the April 8th, 1934, slaying of Loyal W. Bean, Dunkirk grocer.

TOLEDO WORKERS STRIKE

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., May 18—Approximately 400 municipal employes went on strike today in protest against the city's failure to grant $15-a-month wage increases to workers receiving $2,400 or less a year, according to John Jewhurst, service director.

Allied Cause Gains on Battle and Home Fronts

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Yesterday was kindly to the allied cause in widely separated theaters: the German evacuation of the powerful mountain stronghold of Cassino in Italy, the spectacular capture of strategic Myitkyina airdrome from the Japanese in northern Burma and, last but perhaps most important, the cessation of the Detroit foreman's strike on our home front.

The forced withdrawal of the Hitlerites from Cassino—which is part of a general retreat from the Gustav line—represents a solid victory for allied arms in one of the war's toughest spots. Cassino, strongest defense in the Gustav line, had stood us off since January amidst bloody fighting.

The Nazis are falling back on the Adolf Hitler line, which is the next and most formidable obstacle between the allies and Rome. There the enemy will try to make a stand, and a great battle may be expected. The allies already have surged through the Gustav line and are in contact at many points with the elaborate defenses which have been named after Hitler because of their strength.

Expect Red Blow

The Germans are expecting the allies to launch a fresh offensive from the Anzio beachhead in conjunction with the drive on the Adolf Hitler defenses. It wouldn't be surprising if this developed, thus placing the main German battle line in a nasty position between two drives.

The capture of Myitkyina airdrome is a great stroke. It was achieved by American and Chinese forces which now are besieging the city itself.

This column yesterday explained the importance of Myitkyina. It's the main Japanese base in northern Burma, and it's fall would be calculated to compel enemy evacuation of that whole area, thus permitting the allies to join up the Burma and Ledo roads and so reestablish China's land life-line to India.

Our colorful Brigadier General Frank Merrill and his Yankee jungle marauders played a great part in capture of the airdrome. Meanwhile our General (Uncle Joe) Stilwell is driving down from the northwest on Myitkyina with his American and Chinese troops. We are racing against time to evict the Japanese from northern Burma before the monsoon rains descend shortly.

One is almost glad that we had the Detroit foreman's strike, because it has given us a splendid example of how quickly the sturdy American workman can subordinate what he regards as his own best interests when he learns that his cessation of labor is jeopardizing the war effort.

Called Off Quickly

The strike was called off almost immediately General H. H. Arnold had made it known that it represented "one of the most serious setbacks the air-force has had since its inception"—a setback so grave that it might even affect invasion operations. His statement was independent of the merits of the case—just a great soldier's expert assay of effects. The cancellation of the strike was made without regard to the workers' claims. Only the interests of the country and the allied cause were considered on either hand.

General Arnold's blunt frankness, and the foremen's quick and loyal response, constitute a grand day's work for the war effort! There's no manner of doubt that had the strike continued after the air chief's disclosure of the danger, it would have given great aid and comfort to the enemy.

As it is we leave the Germans in the same condition of apprehension that existed yesterday. Then Lt. General Kurt Dittmar, Nazi radio commentator, admitted that the Hitlerian forces might be flung back both in Russia and in western Europe. Other commentators showed wear and tear of nerves.

As a matter of fact it's an understatement to say we leave the Hitlerites in the same state of anxiety. We leave them in far greater fear, for they've had an exhibition of solidarity which will further weaken their hope that dissension among us may bring them relief.

It is estimated that there still is enough coal unmined in this country to last several thousand years.

ITALY

a mile and a half across the Liri valley to reach its vital route, immediately northwest of Cassino. Polish troops were capturing hills 593 and 569.

Hill 593 has been the northern hinge of both the enemy's two major defensive fortifications—the Gustav and the Hitler lines—and the Germans have been counter-attacking violently to regain it.

American troops on the Fifth army's left wing near the Tyrrhenian sea coast slashed into the lofty Aurunci mountain mass, forming the southern end of the Hitler line, and captured 4,500-foot Monte Ruazzo, three miles north of the coastal city of Formia.

The Americans also were said to be within possibly two miles of Formia from the northeast.

The American troops who chased the enemy from the crest of the slopes of Monte Ruazzo last night were reported within two miles of Itri—a road junction commanding the only route of retreat for the enemy troops in the Formia area as well as Gaeta. Itri is 65 airline miles from Rome and 35 miles from the Anzio beachhead.

Nazi Alternatives

As a result of this advance, the enemy was said to be confronted with two possibilities—either throwing in heavy reinforcements on a gamble of holding that key-point or fleeing northward along the Appian way and abandoning the Gaeta point big guns which for weeks have sent shells whistling into the lower Garigliano valley.

An official announcement said the allies were in contact with the Hitler line at many points after driving through most of the first enemy defense—the Gustav line.

French forces captured Esperia, an outpost of the Hitler line in the central sector between the Eighth army and the Americans of the Fifth army, operating near the coast of the Tyrrhenian sea.

The American forces, sweeping at least three miles west from Castellonorato, approached within fighting distance of the enemy's Appian way stronghold of Formia.

Yesterday the Yankee troops drove the enemy from the towns of Trivio and Maranola, and reached a point only a little more than two miles from Formia. The Americans were said to be threatening the town from both the east and north.

Thus, the allied troops steadily were driving the enemy back all along the 25-mile battle line from the sea to beyond Cassino.

"The battle for the Gustav line is drawing to a close and the battle for the Adolf line is about to commence," the daily communique said.

Planes Fly 2,500 Sorties

Backing up the ground troops with 2,500 sorties, mostly over the battle area, the allied air forces yesterday blocked the main highway from Rome to the fighting front, smashed additional ports where enemy supplies were being landed and pounded the German artillery and infantry from dawn to dusk.

The French, still providing a strong spark for the on-to-Rome campaign, as they have ever since the offensive smashed forward a week ago tonight, fought into Esperia despite all efforts of the enemy troops, including the 200th motorized division rushed to the area by the Germans in a last-minute effort to hold this key point.

French artillery began to shell the Itri-Pico road, linking the Hitler line's Liri valley defenses with other German fortifications along the west coast.

The allied offensive now has engulfed a total of 4,500 prisoners, it was announced. This raised the total since the beginning of the Italian campaign last fall to well past 20,000.

Headquarters said a Canadian tank formation now has gone into the battle. The formation is supporting Indian troops driving forward beyond the Rapido.

In the air war, heavy bombers struck yesterday at the west coast ports of Piombino and Santo Stefano, Portoferraio on the island of Elba, and the Adriatic coastal city of Ancona.

Forts Hit Yugoslavia

Flying Fortresses also winged across the Adriatic and attacked Bihac, a strongly-held German position 70 miles south of Zagreb, Yugoslavia.

Mitchell Marauders blocked the Frosinone road junction between Rome and the front, crewmen reporting it was left impassable. RAF Wellingtons returned to targets in the same area last night, as well as many of the Italian objectives hit during the day by the American heavy bombers.

Mitchells, Thunderbolts and Lightnings joined in bombing and strafing attacks on a number of airports in northern Italy. Marauders banged away at a number of bridges and Bostons dropped feed to advanced troops in one sector. Warhawks, invaders and other fighter-bombers lashed at a variety of targets in the immediate battle area.

The Thunderbolts set the pace for the smaller aircraft. They effected 22 rail cuts.

Fifteen allied planes failed to return. Only one enemy plane was observed during the day.

A naval announcement said allied cruisers, sweeping in near shore opposite the Fifth army's 3,000 rounds in the past few days left flank, had fired more than against German installations along the gulf of Gaeta. Up the coast opposite the Anzio beachhead, a small German vessel was sunk the night of May 16.

CAMERAS CHECK ON NAZI ATLANTIC WALL

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 18 — Photographed by an army that already knows almost every square inch of the invasion coast, the German west wall has been found to be a series of mined points ambushed in concrete in a maze of minefields and barbed wire.

The reconnaissance photographs, showing the enemy fortifications, gun-bristling and mine-sown as they have been studied for a year, were made public by the air ministry the day of invasion, an attack the Germans firmly have asserted last night may be expected "any moment now."

The men, which includes Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his command details on the potential battlefield, obtain defense installations in camouflaged concrete clusters in staggered lines back from the mined European coast.

The defense clusters all hide big guns. From some peninsula long barrels of huge sunken batteries. From others rocket guns are set to fire toward the channel.

Relying heavily upon camouflage, the Germans have placed virtually all the defense system underground and have used canvas extensively in an attempt to keep completed installations away from the prying eyes of Allied airmen. But the photographic eyes of Allied air forces have kept track of the digging step by step.

Allied Planes Fly Needed Supplies To Tito's Partisans

By JOHN TALBOTT
(Representing the Combined American and British Press Distributed by The Associated Press)

MARSHAL TITO'S HEADQUARTERS IN YUGOSLAV MOUNTAINS—(Undated)—Standing on a windswept plain completely ringed by towering mountains, I spent the greater part of last night watching munitions and medical supplies for Yugoslavia's national army pouring down from the skies not 15 miles from German positions.

For about four hours a constant stream of giant transport planes flew over the mountains to drop nearly 25 tons of vitally needed supplies for the partisans.

This was only one night's activity at only one of many dropping grounds throughout liberated Yugoslavia. At a neighboring locality, about 25 miles away, I was told another 15 tons were dropped.

All the planes which came to our dropping ground last night were flown by Allied pilots. Goods mostly were British, but this varies almost every night.

This service to Yugoslavia's army is governed entirely by their own requests. Whatever they need most urgently is brought to them if it is humanly possible.

A British major was in charge of the operations at the field where I was watching. Aiding him was a captain in the American air forces, guardsmen and some 30 Partisans.

was not influenced by the testimony of Gen. Arnold or other military leaders but by the "attitude of the WLB, which we feel is favorable."

Management spokesmen for the six companies affected estimated that at least a half million man-days of labor already have been lost by the dispute and predicted many more would be lost before full production is resumed.

Packard Motor Car Co. officials said production would be resumed on the night shift tonight.

Wounded French Wac Gives Medics Surprise in Italy

By GEORGE TUCKER
AP War Correspondent

EIGHTH EVACUATION HOSPITAL, FIFTH ARMY FRONT, ITALY, May 18—Our most surprising battle casualty came in at 6 p. m. last night.

As the litter was placed gently on a pair of wooden horses in the receiving yard where all casualties are identified and registered, the wounded American casually pushed up and removed a dirty olive-drab cap and a wealth of chestnut hair fell out.

"Oh God, it's a girl," a ward attendant cried, and all along the ward the ejaculation echoed: "It's a girl, it's a girl."

Indeed it was, a girl the first, girl casualty of the battle. She was a French War ambulance driver and she had been shot as the drove into the battle zone beyond Sessano.

"I guess I got on the wrong road," explained the Wac to one of our nurses who speaks French.

The wounded girl was very gay as she lay waiting for X-ray pictures to come through, and told of her embarrassment when something knocked the breath out of her as she pounded pellmell down a rocky road. Medics quickly ascertained that no vital tissue was injured and that recovery was certain in a relatively short time. The shot tore through the ambulance seat and lodged in her back.

Capt. William S. Laird, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Charlottesville, Va., is the chaplain here.

The chaplain's assistant is Cpl. Beverley D. Tucker of Cleveland, O., whose father is Episcopal bishop of Ohio and whose uncle, Henry St. George Tucker of Richmond, Va., is presiding bishop of the Episcopal church of the United States.

CHINA

must be multiplied several times to take into account the endless succession of rugged mountains which are in their paths.

Chinese Face Trouble

The picture was still grim for Chinese defenders of Loyang, former Chinese capital in northern Honan province. Furious infantry attacks both inside and outside the city are being met but Japanese forces are spinning a gigantic trap around Loyang, Southeast of the city, Chinese troops reportedly recaptured a 50-mile stretch of the Peiping-Hankow railroad.

Another trap, this time with the Japanese the victims, is being sprung in the southwest Pacific. General MacArthur's headquarters said Americans spreading out from the New-Hollandia-Aitape bases have contacted strong enemy patrols 34 miles southeast of Aitape. This narrowed to 200 miles the gap between the Yanks and Australian veterans striking northwestward from Madang.

Allied planes again blasted the Japanese on Wake island northwest of Hollandia and hit the Schouten islands for the 13th consecutive day.

Central Pacific planes raided isolated Japanese bases in the Marshall islands.

Exchanged Prisoners Await Sailing Time

By The Associated Press

BARCELONA, Spain, May 18—Nine hundred Americans and Britons, exchanged for a similar number of Germans, waited today for the Gripsholm to unload about 1,600 Red Cross mail parcels for American prisoners of war in the reich before beginning their journey home.

The diplomatic exchange ship is expected to remain here until Friday to complete the unloading. The parcels will go by rail to Germany.

(In Washington the state department said the Gripsholm, on her return journey, would stop at a port in North Africa and a port in the United Kingdom and was expected to arrive in New York about June 10.)

Although only 18 American soldiers were expected on the Gadisca, 60 arrived.

"ALL-BRAN WORKED WONDERS FOR ME!"

Says Constipation Sufferer

There's real hope for common constipation sufferers in this unsolicited letter!

"Thanks for what KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN has done for me. I'm 75 years old. Had been taking pills and salts almost every night. 6 weeks ago, I started eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every morning. Soon I had regular movements without any trouble. I can't praise ALL-BRAN enough. It sure works wonders for me." Mr. E. C. Zook, Box 114, Fairbury, Ill.

How can such amazing results for thousands be explained? Scientists say it's because KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of certain "cellulosic" elements, lack of which in the diet is a common cause of constipation. They help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. Doesn't "sweep you out"! It's simply a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly with milk and fruit, or mixed with other cereals. Drink plenty of water. See if you, too, don't get real help! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

EGG PRODUCTION INCREASE URGED

Warns That Scarcity Follows Oversupply.

...facilitymen are ...ipment to pro... 2,789,478 ...year, one per cent ...944, as their part ... "Food for ... program. Poultry Defense ...ment today in a ...tion by Head... Linn, N. J.

...ould best be ... take full ... present egg sur... ...ments calling ...e of eggs, thus en... ...ouraging farmers to maintain ...mum production," Committee Secretary Leon Todd said.

...its utmost poultrymen to make ...for 1944 go full. Todd pointed out ...the current egg abundance may ...be followed by a serious shortage ...if farmers liquidate some of their ...laying flocks because of inability ...to dispose of eggs at profitable ...prices now.

An aid to producers is the concerted effort of distributors to keep the supply of eggs flowing steadily into consumer channels as a nutritious wartime food, Todd said, adding that aggressive merchandising has thus proved an important factor in increasing egg consumption. "For instance," he asserted, "one of the larger purchasers of Buckeye State eggs bought 4,206,654 dozen eggs in the state last year topping its 1942 purchases by nearly 70 per cent and paying Ohio producers $992,972 more than during the previous year."

Even greater cooperation by distributors and consumers is needed now, the poultry official said, to assure farmers a profitable market for their surplus production during the next few weeks and thus insure that a feast will not be followed by a famine. "Each of us can help," he concluded, "by eating more eggs during this period. Remember, they are a 'whole' food, complete with proteins, essential vitamins, fats and minerals."

Father, 100, So Soldier Son Coming Home

By The Associated Press

AT A UNITED STATES MEDIUM BOMBER BASE IN ITALY, May 18.—Because his mother dropped a line to President Roosevelt, Tech. Sgt. Arthur B. Hasler, 21-year-old air crew chief, is going home for the celebration of his father's 100th birthday.

He won't be able to make it for the anniversary proper, because it comes tomorrow, but the party will be held up until Hasler's arrive.

Mrs. Hasler, who lives in Geneseo, N. Y., wrote to the president: "Please, can my boy come home? He is the youngest of 13 children. . . . I am having a little party because it's father's 100th birthday."

William Hassett, secretary to the president, sent the letter to the adjutant general's office, where it was referred to 12th air-force headquarters. There the request was formally granted.

The elder Hasler is a retired gardener. The son, whose original ship just was withdrawn from combat after completing 100 missions, came overseas in February, 1943.

Reporter Tells Mothers How Sons are Buried in Pacific

BY ELMONT WAITE
AP War Correspondent

ABOARD CARRIER FLAGSHIP CENTRAL PACIFIC—Folks back home, Mabel Arbaugh of Marion and George Leonard Schuetz of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., already know their sons died when hot shrapnel from Japanese guns flies fatally [illegible]

Mrs. Arbaugh—Carl Vincent Heighton Jr., Akron—and Wallace James Schuetz of Wisconsin Rapids were reenrollmen in carrier planes. Both were fatally wounded over Truk.

All the loudspeakers on this big ship announced the time of their services and almost all work ceased. It was like a town of several thousand people closing all the stores and offices for the mayor's funeral.

The boys' shipmates crowded as closely as they could stand, into the big cleared space along the rail.

Protestant services were held for Carl Vincent, and Catholic services for Mr. Schuetz' boy.

Big American flags were draped over the bodies as they lay in the center of the cleared space. The Protestant chaplain read the 23rd psalm and part of Revelations 14:13.

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: yea, saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

Carl didn't die just so the rest of us could continue to live, the chaplain said. He lived and fought and died "that we might lead lives that are decent and honest and just and kind; and if we all try to live such lives, we can be certain his sacrifice will not have been in vain."

The committal is the same in both Protestant and Catholic service. The bodies are lowered slowly toward the sea as the chaplain reads: "We therefore commit his body to the deep in the sure and certain hope of resurrection—".

As he reads, the body slips quietly from beneath its American flag, into the sea.

Then there is the Lord's prayer, and a benediction.

All the shipmates stand by, silent and bareheaded, while a bugler sounds taps; and you can see some of them are very near tears.

Then the executive officer himself — just about the most important man aboard ship — steps forward to receive the carefully folded flag. Carl's flag was saved for you, Mrs. Arbaugh; and the other for you, Mr. Schuetz.

No marble monuments, no raw earth mark the boys' graves—just the clean, beautiful, eternally restless Pacific. There were no flowers. None were needed. Each setting sun and soft white moon for many thousands of years have been decorating this scene with the most vividly beautiful colors in the world.

It will always be that way, Mrs. Arbaugh and Mr. Schuetz".

Former Resident of Marion Dies

Harry L. Dowler,
Mayor of Marion, says:

"Marion men and women can render our country a patriotic service by arranging to work a split-shift in one of our war industries. It's a civic obligation that will pay you well."

Several Marion industrial plants with contracts for vital invasion equipment are being seriously handicapped in their efforts to deliver this material on time by labor shortages, which are becoming more and more serious as each new draft call takes additional men from these plants. If you are not employed at present . . . if you are holding down a non-essential job that someone with less training could fill . . . if you can arrange to work a split shift in one of these plants in addition to handling your present job . . . or if you can do light work that might help to release a more experienced man or woman for war work . . . you are in a position to do your country and community a real service.

It's Time for FRUIT

JELLIED FRUIT SALAD: Main dish or dessert.

* * *

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Not only can fruit salad be a totally different composition every time you make it, it can also be used for any one of the courses in a meal. First, it can be served instead of a fruit cup at the beginning of luncheon or dinner.

Next fruit salad can be the main course at luncheon, for a party, for just the family, or for a picnic. Few people think of it for the latter use, but try it some time and see if it doesn't make a tremendous hit. Prepare a mixture of grapes, halved and pitted, orange sections, dark red cherries, cantaloupe in section, strawberries, raspberries, blueberries, apple chunks—and other fruit you find in the market. Not all of these at once, naturally, but three or four or five. Take these to the picnic in a chilled jar or thermos jug, well mixed with mayonnaise and a dash of salad herbs. Serve on lettuce, accompanied by datenut sandwiches spread with cream cheese.

Finally, fruit salad makes a fine dessert. It can be served on lettuce with mayonnaise or whipped cream (if you can make it). Or it can be served "as is" with a custard sauce. In the accompanying photograph, you will see such a fruit salad prepared in a gelatine mold. It has a particularly practical aspect for the family of two. It's made from quick-frozen fruits. Half a package is plenty for two people at one meal. If you then leave the rest of the fruit for another meal it tends to darken and become unattractive looking. So why not put the second half of the package into a jellied mold at once and save it for the next day? Half of the following recipe will do that nicely.

JELLIED FRUIT SALAD

1 envelope plain unflavored gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, 1 cup hot water, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup fruit juice (drained from frozen fruits) 1½ cups mixed quick-frozen fruit.

Soften gelatine in cold water and dissolve in hot water. Add sugar, cool and add fruit juice. Chill, and when mixture begins to thicken, fold in mixed fruit. Pour into a mold that has been rinsed out in cold water. Chill until firm.

To make sure that the quick-frozen fruit doesn't darken before being added to the gelatine mixture, allow it to thaw in the closed package.

Of course, this handsome mold doesn't have to be used as a dessert. It can double as all that any group of ladies would want to eat for a spring or summer luncheon—perhaps preceded by a hot, clear soup. And with it I'd suggest that you serve hot Honey Currant Buns. I think you'll agree they're about the most delicious you've ever tasted.

HONEY CURRANT BUNS

½ cup shredded bran, ½ cup currants, ¾ cup milk, ¼ cup honey, 2 cups sifted flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup shortening.

Combine the first four ingredients. Let stand ten minutes. Combine flour and salt, and cut in shortening. Add to first mixture and knead. Place dough on small pan with back of spoon or deep cookie-cutter. Make on a greased cookie sheet. Make a mixture of 1 tablespoon honey and 1 tablespoon butter, and glaze over top of buns. Bake in a moderately hot oven (425 degrees) for 20 minutes. Yield: Twelve medium-sized buns.

Note: A plain sugar icing may be poured or spread over the top of the buns after baking, if preferred. If icing is used, omit honey with butter mixture.

Red Cross Canteen Course Scheduled

Women who have completed their nutrition course and wish to go further into the work by taking a course in canteen work will have an opportunity to do so when a class in the instruction of canteen work opens next Tuesday afternoon under the direction of the Marion County Chapter of the National Red Cross.

Registration may be made either at the Red Cross office or at the community house of the First United Brethren church, where the classes will be held. In the opening date, Tuesday at 2 p. m. Miss Gladys Uncapher, home economics instructor at the Pleasant Township High school, will be the instructor for the 20-hour course and classes will be held twice a week, Tuesdays and Thursdays at 2 p. m. A number of women who have completed their nutrition course have requested that a canteen course be sponsored by the Red Cross in order that they might assist with the work at the Red Cross blood donor center.

Energy from Sweet Dessert

By BETSY NEWMAN

Why does the old sweet tooth crave dessert on our tired days? Maybe we need more energy to carry on now, and sweets furnish that needed fillup. At any rate, recipes for sweet desserts are requested, so I'm giving you some today.

MENU

Broiled Pork Chops, Parsley Potatoes, Creamed Green Onions, Cabbage Salad, Chocolate Angel Food Cake, or Lemon Roll, Coffee or Tea

Chocolate Angel Food Cake

One-fourth tsp. salt, 1 tsp. cream of tartar, 1 c. sugar, ¾ c. sifted cake flour, 1 tsp. vanilla, 3 tbsps. cocoa, ½ c. sugar, 1¼ c. egg whites.

Sift flour, measure and sift four times with cocoa and the ¼ cup sugar. Beat egg whites with salt until frothy, add cream of tartar and continue beating until eggs stand up in peaks, but are not dry. Add the 1 cup sugar gradually, beating it in until well blended. Fold in vanilla. Sift about ¼ dry ingredients over egg whites, fold it in, and continue adding dry ingredients, folding in each addition before adding more. Do not overbeat. Turn into angel food or sponge cake pan that has never been greased, run spatula or knife through cake to remove any large air bubbles, and bake 1 hour or until cake springs back when pressed with finger. Remove pan, invert on tube part and let stand until cold.

Lemon Roll

1 cup cake flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, ¼ tsp. salt, 3 eggs, ¾ c. sugar, ½ tsp. grated lemon rind, 1½ tbsp. lemon juice, ¼ c. cold water, 2 tbsps. melted fat.

Grease jelly roll pan, line bottom with waxed paper, grease paper. Sift flour, measure and sift again with baking powder and salt. Separate eggs, beat whites until stiff, but not dry. Beat yolks, add sugar gradually, beating it in; add grated lemon rind and juice. Stir in dry ingredients alternately with water. Add melted fat, and fold in beaten egg whites last. Turn into prepared pan and bake at 375 degrees F. until cake shrinks from sides of pan and browns nicely, about 20 minutes. Remove from oven, turn into a towel sprinkled with confectioner's sugar, removed paper, trim off crusts, spread with lemon cake filling and roll. Wrap in a towel and put in refrigerator until serving time.

Sycamore Senior Class Presents Annual Play

SYCAMORE—The senior class of Sycamore school presented its annual play Friday. The play, "Tomatoes at Large," was under the direction of Miss Adelaide McGinnis, the English instructor. The cast included Don Christofer, Ruth Dunbar, Carl Minter, Helen Kirsch, Kenneth Adams, Phyllis Close, Jeanne Ludwig, Edna Gregory, Betty Wagner, Tom Gregg, Darrel Kisor, Mary Louise Blackburn, Loel Arnold and Junior Ankney. Others who assisted were Vivian Walton, Tom Hufford, Claude Montz, Nancy Curtis, Illene Riedel and A. G. Keller.

The baccalaureate services for the graduating class were held in the school auditorium Sunday with Rev. C. F. Brouse, president of the board of education, bringing the sermon. The invocation was given by Rev. E. E. Roush and the scripture was read by Rev. S. M. Firestone.

The processional was played by Marcile Kuncy and the recessional by Marjorie Harper. The music was furnished by the girls' glee club and a mixed choir from the high school.

Miss Gloria Staib, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Staib, graduated Saturday from the St. Vincent school of nursing in Toledo. Miss Staib entered training in September 1941 and was enrolled as an army cadet last year. She graduated from Sycamore high school in 1941 with the highest honors in the class.

The Legion auxiliary met Thursday with Mrs. Calvin Frankenfield presiding. Plans were made to sell poppies on Wednesday and Saturday night preceding Decoration day. Mrs. Fern Heck and Mrs. Dora Roby were appointed on the program committee for Decoration day; Mrs. Lea Jean Ludwig and Mrs. Grace Wenner for poppy sales and Mrs. Anna Wenner and Mrs. Ella Miller to make wreaths for the graves of the departed members of the Post and Auxiliary.

There is a Big Saving . . . and a Big Difference

Between Albers one price policy and the prices of others who advertise every-day low prices. Albers one price policy means low prices every day on all items. Every day low prices may mean a few low prices on a few items maybe five out of one hundred, which means that you pay much more for your total food costs than you do at Albers.

Final Marion - Giant Contest Halted in 4th by Heavy Rain

Locals Trailing Springfield, 7 to 0, When Play Is Stopped: Open Series at Newark Tonight.

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

After being saved from [illegible] defeat at the hands of the Springfield Giant [illegible] Lincoln [illegible] set by that old kill-joy Jup Pluvius, Marion [illegible] were to open the second series of the young season with the [illegible] moundsmen at Newark's White field tonight. First [illegible] be tossed at 8:15

Games with Newark are [illegible]cluded for tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night. Sunday afternoon, the locals tour to Springfield for a [illegible] Giants, Monday, another Marion-Springfield [illegible] on the cricket and Tuesday, the rangers of Grover Hartley return to Marion for a three-game conflict with the Zanesville Dodgers of Jack Knight.

A ground-saturating downpour caused the halting of action in last night's Marion-Springfield game after three and a third innings, approximately 45 minutes, of play. Springfield was leading at the time, 7 to 0, after having counted five runs in the first inning and two in the incomplete fourth. Nine hits were registered by the "in-the-groove" Giant off Jack Van Wanning, Marion pitcher. Marion, on the other hand, was unable to solve Bob Faulkner, tall Springfield right hander, for a single hit.

The sun was beaming down in true summer style when last night's game got under way. By the time the second and third innings rolled around, the skies assumed a dark, ominous hue and lightning began to flash. Then after one man had been retired in the first of the fourth and with one Springfield runner on base, the rains came. Plate Umpire Allen "Costello" Angelo wisely halted play and after about a 15-minute wait, during which the some 250 fans sought shelter under the Lincoln grandstand, the game was officially called.

So the first Springfield-Marion series of the year ended in a dead heat with each team winning one game. After Marion copped the opener Monday night, 3 to 1, Earl Wilgamot's Giants came back Tuesday night to record an 11 to 8 triumph in 12 innings.

Springfield started with a thundering bang in the first inning of last night's tilt, getting five runs on four hits. Tomilson, second baseman and lead off man drew a walk. Simpson, shortstop, singled him to second. Johnny Carenbauer, Springfield centerfielder, blasted a single to center field, scoring Tomilson with an earned run and when Irving Burkwitt, Marion center gardener allowed the ball to seep through his legs, [illegible] tripled to center field. Simpson [illegible] singled and Tomilson scored. Simpson took third when Pitcher Van Wanning made a bad throw. He scored on a single by Carenbauer. After Carenbauer stole second, the rain began to tumble down.

Last night's game will not go down in the league records, nor will the individual performances of the players.

Lineups:

Simpson and Carenbauer each scored three runs. First Baseman Van Loon [illegible] double. He went to third on an error by Bob McDonald. Minnis, Jennings and scored on a single by Bolick. Danes flied out, Smith walked and Third Baseman Steve Demer singled scoring Bolick with the fifth run of the inning. McKechnie Sends Star Pitcher In To Pinch Hit; Wins Game with Double.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 13—Bucky Walters, [illegible] according to the requirements of the moment, [illegible] to form as yesterday [illegible] pinch-hitting double with [illegible] runs in tonight.

Either Dixie Walker of Brooklyn Reiser of the Pittsburgh Pirates plays in the second night game of the season here.

Bucky's double, driving in the run that gave the Reds a 6-5 victory in the opening game of the [illegible] with beautiful timing just before a [illegible] shower in the eighth inning. The ball park [illegible] was overflowing with [illegible], and Manager Bill McKechnie sent Tony Cuccinello out to bat for Bob Malloy, [illegible] pitcher.

But before Tony could do more than get his name in the box-score, McKechnie changed his master-mind and Bucky batted for Tony. The double scored Dain Clay, who was running for Chick Aleno, who had done nothing more than force Eddie Miller, who had singled.

The Blue Jays got off to a 3-0 lead in the second inning on a single, a walk and two doubles and made it 4 to 1 in the fourth with a walk and a couple of singles.

The Reds tied it up in the fifth on Max Marshall's triple, two singles, a walk and an error, and went ahead in the seventh. The Jays knotted the count in the seventh on Malloy's walk with the bases full.

Toledo Rookie Pitcher Gets Tough Assignment

By The Associated Press

GREAT LAKES, Ill., May 13—Don (Baldy) Spence, just out of Indiana university, got a tough assignment in his debut as a pitcher for Toledo's American association baseball team against Great Lakes yesterday.

Spence got along all right for six innings but the sailors—every one in the lineup a former major leaguer—batted him out with a 7-run outburst in the seventh. Ed Wieland and Virgil Trucks blanked the Mudhens on four hits as the Tars won, 8 to 0.

Jittery Joe Helps Put Mack's A's in 1st Division

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, May 13 — Jonas Arthur "Jittery Joe" Berry walked into the Philadelphia Athletics' training camp—a complete stranger — one day this spring when the temperature was in the 30s.

He threw a couple of pitches and then cut loose with a curve ball.

"There's my relief pitcher," said Connie Mack.

"A good one might mean the difference between the cellar and first division," one of the coaches remarked.

Today, the Athletics are up in the first division, and the league pitching averages show—"Berry, won 4, lost 1."

But the records don't tell the whole story. In his four victories Berry has pitched hitless, ball—eight innings of it. In a game he saved for Don Black he gave the Yanks one hit in two innings. He looked bad just once, in his only loss, when he gave the Senators six in two.

"Jittery Joe," a resident of Huntsville, Ark., who confesses to be 38, has been knocking around the minors for 17 years. He had a trial with the Chicago Cubs after the 1942 season, when he won 18 games for Tulsa and had an earned run average of 1.88. But he was sent to Milwaukee, where he won 18 last year. The A's bought him during the winter.

Berry throws a little of everything and not much of anything, with an in-between speed that apparently baffles big league batters because they haven't seen anything like it.

Cleveland Solves Old Knuckle Ball Problem, Beat Nats

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 13—The Washington Nationals [illegible] assembled a [illegible] starters to battle the [illegible] Indians today [illegible] strategy [illegible] Vernon Kennedy [illegible] ball elusive [illegible] Indians to a 4 to 2 triumph.

The 35-year-old Missouri farmer sniffed off the knuckler [illegible] puny effort [illegible] one single [illegible] nings and gave [illegible] the unexciting [illegible]

The Indians [illegible] the same trouble [illegible] until the [illegible] score at 1-all, but added three more runs in the eighth to [illegible] the game and end their six-game losing string.

Jeff Heath, whose leg [illegible] is lame returned to the lineup and [illegible] the score with a long double in the [illegible] and then [illegible] the deadlock with [illegible] in the eighth—a single that [illegible] in the first of three runs in that inning.

The clubs end their series tonight, after which the Indians will move on to Philadelphia for a four-game set with the Athletics. Hal Klein, the Indians' 20-year-old southpaw, hurls against Emil (Dutch) Leonard, another knuckle-ball pitcher.

LIMA STRENGTHENS GRIP ON TOP SPOT

Lima remained at the top of the heap in the Ohio State league, winning a game from Zanesville last night, 7 to 3. Newark did not play at Middletown as grounds were soggy from recent rains. Springfield played at Marion until the fourth inning when heavy rains forced players to stop. Only other change in standings was an exchange between Newark and Zanesville, Newark rising to third and Zanesville descending to fourth.

Score by innings of the Lima-Zanesville game follows:

Club		R.	H.	E.
Lima	000 002 50*—7	8	3
Zanesville	003 000 000—3	8	4

Grove's Patience Rewarded—He's First To Blank Yankees

By The Associated Press

It took Lefty Grove a year to get even but the Grand old gladiator today has squared his deal with the New York [illegible] who broke his nine-game win streak and ruined his [illegible] 1943.

Grove became the first pitcher to shut out the New Yorkers when he blanked them 4-0 with five hits yesterday.

Last July, Grove had a no-hitter with two out in the ninth when Joe Gordon's [illegible] spoiled it, and a few weeks later the [illegible] champs ruined his attempt for a tenth straight victory.

Washington muffed a chance to go into a virtual tie for the American League lead by [illegible] before Cleveland Vern Kennedy's four-hit effort, 4-2. Jeff Heath with a double and two singles and Dick Hoekett with a triple and a pair of singles sent Roger Wolff down for his first loss.

Buddy Hall's boot with the bases loaded cost Philadelphia's Athletics a 2-1 decision to Detroit before a 2-1 decision to Detroit, much to the dismay of 28,535 Quaker City fans who were trying to root the A's home for their seventh straight.

Boston split two with the St. Louis Browns winning 5-1, behind Tex Hughson's four-hit hurling but losing after a wild scramble in the finale, 13-6. Joe Cronin of the Red Sox became a bench manager again, yielding first base to George Metkovich and appearing only as a pinch-hitter. By the split and Detroit's night win, the Sox plunged into the cellar.

Brooklyn might be last in the national if the Chicago Cubs weren't putting up such a strong defense, for the Dodgers tumbled into seventh position after bowing to Pittsburgh, 8-5. The Brooks, having a poor road trip, came up with four runs in the sixth to grab the lead but the Pirates rallied with four in their half for an 8-5 margin before rain forced them to call it a night. Tommy O'Brien's triple with the bases loaded was the game-winning poke.

The Braves continued to get top flight pitching as Red Barrett rocked the St. Louis Cardinals back on their heels with five blows for a 5-1 edge.

Bucky Walters turned from pitching to hitting and as a pinch batsman cracked a double that gave Cincinnati a 6-5 triumph over the Phils in a see-saw game called a moment after the hit in the eighth inning because of rain.

Joe Medwick and Danny Gar- [illegible] della paced the New York Giants attack on five Chicago hurlers in a 10-6 margin in a [illegible] game.

In Tag Match, Tonite

Rufus Jones, the colored star from New York, will team up with the Black Panther tonight at the Marion Armory against the team of Tiger Jack Moore and Mario Angelo in what should be the best tag team matches ever seen at the local arena. All four of these men are well known locally and plenty of action can be assured when they get going at this best of type matches. Jack Nichols, local favorite, will try to break his draw decision with Red Ryan in the one-hour opening match at 8:30. All matches are for the best two out of three falls. Call the Armory after 1 for reservations.—Adv.

Hartley Begins To Cut Roster with 4 Men Being Released

The [illegible] managerial [illegible] and landed its first [illegible] on Marion's oversize [illegible] league roster yesterday, [illegible] four players being released by Grover Hartley, team [illegible]. There are now 29-odd [illegible] the squad, which must [illegible] by May 23, when the [illegible] will be three weeks [illegible] determined by league [illegible] before the season that [illegible] Ohio State teams could [illegible] more for the first three [illegible] the campaign but must [illegible] their rosters to 15 [illegible].

The players released by [illegible] Hartley were Outfielder [illegible] Hickey, Second Baseman [illegible] Whidden, Shortstop Mike [illegible] and Jack Van Wanning. [illegible] was bounced for seven runs [illegible] nine hits in the four inning [illegible] with Springfield last night. [illegible] had been optioned to the [illegible] also by Richmond of the [illegible] Piedmont league. Falatic came [illegible] of Jamestown of the Class [illegible] circuit, Whidden is a free [illegible] and Van Wanning came only [illegible] Saturday from Hartford of the [illegible] league, a Class A set up.

The new players donned Marion [illegible] last night and one, Fred Roberts, started at one of the Marion team's weak-spots, second base. The other newcomer, Jack Coyle, is an outfielder and saw no action last night. However, he is expected to be given a trial by Manager Hartley before the end of the series with Newark.

Both new boys are from Youngstown, where they played semi-pro ball last year. Roberts, a stockily-built 19-year-older can play any infield position, but favors second and third base. Coyle is only 18.

NEW YORK, May 18—Overseas sports roundup:

Persian Gulf Command

Sgt. Allen Lacombe, the No. 1 boxing promoter from Cairo to Teheran, types this report: . . . "Boxing in the P.G.C. has been pretty good in the last month or so. I took 22 boys on tour of the command. The camps we appeared in did not have boxing teams before we went there, but as soon as we left all the camps started to organize teams . . . There is only one place that we can fight during the summer and that is Teheran. It is nice and cool up in the mountains where the camps are so once a month I have to put on 12 fights up there, matching boys from all over the command. The only rough part about it is that we fellows stationed down in the southern part of Iran have to travel almost 850 miles to fight. The change of climate is murder; you can hardly breathe when you get up in them mountains. And you have to travel fourth class or ride in box cars all the way, eating C rations, but the boys do not seem to mind it very much. In fact they raise hell if you cannot get them a match every time you go up there. When this war is over and all the boys turn pro and we have to ride the rods from town to town, up and down the kerosene circuit, we will be used to it."

From a Canadian newspaper comes information that a Canadian army cricket team will play an American team on the famed cricket grounds at Lords, July 20 . . . From this distance, it seems more likely that staid Londoners never will forget the Canadian-American game.

North Africa

Chief Warrant Officer Frank Hartley reports as follows to his old paper, the Louisville Times, on racing in North Africa: "It's confusing enough to buy a ticket which reads 20 francs, but which sells for 60 francs, or $1.20. It's even worse inside . . . If you're lucky, you can find through the use of sign language and GI French that favorites aren't pasted and there aren't, as a result, any opening odds . . . so long as the race is going on, you can imagine that you're back in the States, because usually the races are good and it's just as difficult to see the backstretch as it is 'at home'."

Tunney Had a Goal

NOTES FROM THE CLUBHOUSE

WITH AP SPORTS WRITERS

Billy Gibson looks on as Gene Tunney signs to meet Tom Heeney in 1926, Tunney's last fight.

By FRITZ HOWELL
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK — The Jacobs Beach boxing boys were whiling away their time talking about the next heavyweight champion.

Large Lew Diamond, honest brakeman and mayor of the sidewalk seaside, spoke up. And when Large Lew speaks, every one listens.

Every one, that is, except Dan Morgan and Jimmy Johnston, the big town's two top talkers, who listen to none but talk to all.

"The next champion," Large Lew claims, "will come from the armed services, just as after the last war. He will be some clean-living kid like Gene Tunney.

"Gene was one in a million. He had ideals, and a goal. He saw the fight game as a stepping stone to something bigger, and he used it 'a climb the ladder. He knew he was going to be champion long before he beat Dempsey, because he told me so.

"Back in 1922, four years before he won the title, Tunney was fighting one of my boys, Ray Newman, down at Charlie Schwab's birthday party in Ebensburg, Pa.

"Billy Gibson, who had bought Tunney's contract from Frank (Doc) Bagley, and I was playing pinochle. Tunney was in the next room, reading a 'bug' book.

"Gene stuck his head in the door and asked:

"'What was the first bug originated in this world?'

"Well, he surprised me so much I played the right card and was picking up the dough when Tunney asked:

"'Well, what was the second bug, then?'

"Gibson, irked at losing, said: 'Aw, go take that bug for a walk.'

"That gave me a chance to get out with the winnings, so I asked Gene if he'd like a stroll. As we walked down the street, Tunney turned and said: 'Lew, I like to do everything every one else does, but I have plans of my own. I'm going to be next heavyweight champion, because I'm going to beat Dempsey. I'm going to defend the title twice, then retire and marry into society.'

"Years later, when Gene was training for Dempsey at Stroudsburg, Pa., I took my three red-haired kid boys down to see him. Gene came over and patted their heads, then turned to me and said:

"'How', my condition, Lew?'

"'Only a miracle can keep you from winning. You are in great shape, Gene,' I answered.

"'Well, as you know, Gene won the fight, beat Dempsey in the return match, and then stopped Tom Heeney. After he retired, I was making matches in Scranton, Pa., and Commissioner Larry Farrell asked for a benefit show in Sayre, Pa.

"'Make it a good one,' Farrell said, 'for Tunney will be there.' Tunney called me over to his seat during the program, introduced me to his wife, and said: 'Polly, meet Lew Diamond, the only man I ever told what I planned to do.'

"Tunney is the man who put the heavyweight crown on a pedestal. He came out of the ranks of the fighting Marines to win it, and there never has been a breath of bad publicity connected with him.

"Gene wasn't popular with some of the newspapermen. He refused to allow parties, or noise at his training camps, and when he was through with his workouts he went off by himself. He was there to train for a fight, and he would not let anything, or any one, interfere with it.

"He's the kind of guy the youth of America can look up to. As a youth he didn't drink or smoke, and he lived cleanly. He has never changed. He is a fine Naval officer. Most people don't know the real Tunney, but take it from me, he's a great guy.

"I hope the next champion, coming out of the service, will be just a little bit like him."

The farthest advance of the Germans into Russia encompassed roughly one-sixteenth of all the Soviet Union's territory.

GRADUATION PLANS MADE AT GALION

FISH MANAGEMENT SIGNS

The Fish Conservation Section of the Division of Conservation and Natural Resources announces the planting of 6,200 [illegible] in the streams of [illegible] during the [illegible] of the season.

Last December the Conservation and Natural Resources Commission set up 142 fish safety zones along streams, together with a few temporary and year-around sanctuaries in several [illegible] fishing laws in addition to other 1944 fishing regulations.

While each fishing license the angler buys at a new fishing digest and the information, coupled with posters along the banks of the fishing waters, are designed to acquaint fishermen with the latest fishing information.

This year if a closed stream fish safety zone includes one or more public highway bridges, fishing is allowed (except for black bass and trout during the closed season) with permission of the landowner, within 200 yards of either side of the bridge. In southern Ohio (south of U. S. 35, U. S. 50 and U. S. Alternate 50) the closed stream fish safety zone season coincides with the black bass closed season from April 15 to May 31, both dates inclusive, and in the streams north of these highways the closed dates of the stream fishsafety zones coincide with the closed black bass season from May 1 to June 15, both dates inclusive. All streams safety zone signs are dated to prevent confusion.

Mushroom Season

With the first morel mushrooms already reported in some of the southern counties, mushroom hunters should harvest quite a crop this spring, provided the alternate rainy and warm spells continue. The morel, or sponge mushroom, favorite of so many people this season of [illegible] weather and one or another of the six or eight species reported for Ohio can be found in nearly every section of the state.

Though the mushroom season is short in any given locality, it will last a month or more from time it begins in the southern counties until it finishes in the north. Ideal weather interrupted by cool weather may prolong the growing season. Look for them in old woodlots, old orchards, fertile bot-

Western AA Clubs on First Eastern Trip

By The Associated Press

The American association's western clubs open their first eastern invasion today, with Milwaukee's Brewers holding a five-game edge over Columbus, the 1943 junior world champions.

Matters come to an immediate head for these two teams who clash tonight in the first of a three-game series. The Brewers, who won 10 and lost 2 games during their recent home stand, have nominated veteran Earl Caldwell (3-1) to hurl the opener against Jack Burkhart (3-1).

St. Paul, whose record during the recent home stand was eight wins and three losses, is at Indianapolis, Kansas City opens at Toledo and Minneapolis moves into Louisville. All games are scheduled for tonight.

Porter Is Witness in Trial of Doctor

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 18—The jury trying Robert L. Miller for the "love triangle" slaying of Dr. John E. Lind heard a Negro porter testify today he saw the 67-year-old attorney fire twice into an automobile at a downtown intersection, then place a "white object" containing another gun on the seat beside the body of the slain psychiatrist.

The witness was LaMar D. Johnson, employe of a department store where Miller's wife, Marguerite, had bought a brassiere shortly before entering Lind's car while Miller watched from a nearby employe's entrance.

Johnson said he watched Miller from the time he entered the entrance foyer and began pacing nervously until the shooting.

Johnson was the first of eight witnesses to testify.

Miller has contended he fired in self-defense, but the government charges he planned the killing after warning the psychiatrist to keep away from his wife.

Plan To Employ 3 On Hardin Co. Voc-Ag Staff

KENTON, May 18 — School leaders, at a called meeting this week with state vocational agriculture representatives, approved a plan for employment of three vocational instructors by the Hardin county board of education, and assignment of each of them to high school departments.

Under the proposed plan, to be submitted to local boards of education for approval, one teacher would be assigned to Kenton, Mt. Victory and Ridgeway high school departments; another would teach at Ada, Alger and McGuffey, and the third would teach vocational agriculture in Dola, Dunkirk and Forest high schools. The mounting teacher shortage was given as reason for the move.

MILL BUYING PUSHES WHEAT PRICE AHEAD

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 18—Mill buying pushed wheat futures ahead today after a hesitant start. Gains ranged to more than a cent at times. Some buying was based upon reports that heavy rains in the northwest will further delay seeding, which already is late in that area. Trading in the wheat pit was featured by scarcity of offers.

Rye shunned to a new low for the year at the start, but then reversed his trend and returned to around the preceding session's close in sympathy with the strength of wheat. Trading was heavy and the market appeared nervous.

Oats and barley were firm.

Storm Halts School May Festival Event

The entertainment program of the May festival at Edison Junior High school was postponed last night because of the storm and will be continued when weather permits, school officials announced today.

The crown had barely been placed on the head of Miss Grace Crizer, May queen, before the participants and audience were forced to seek cover from the storm. Festivities will be concluded either tomorrow night or Monday night if weather is favorable.

CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE

By The Associated Press

VAN WERT, O., May 18—Five-month-old Sarah Marie Hamrick and her brother Forest Eugene, three, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home at nearby Willshire township. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Hamrick, were plowing when the tragedy occurred.

OBSERVE PRICE WEEK

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 18—Members of local CIO unions are observing "price' control week," May 17 through 24 in an effort to keep prices down. Approximately 5,000 unionists signed cards addressed to district congressmen and senators stating "don't raise the cost of living. We want a strong office of price administration and urge you to provide adequate funds for vigorous enforcement. We request you to fight all crippling amendments to the price control act."

STUDENT DEFERMENTS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 18—Deferment of students preparing for the ministry, whether they are attending theological or divinity schools, has been authorized by selective service. The revised regulation stipulates, however, that students in other institutions must be under the direction of the specialized schools and "pursuing a specific full time course of an accelerated basis" in order to be granted deferment.

MILD PROFIT CASHING NOTED

Recent Climbers Restrained but Market Generally Advances Fractions.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 18—Mild profit cashing restrained many recent climbers in today's stock market but leaders, generally, extended the advance by fractions.

There was a tendency to lighten accounts here and there because of the fact the list, on average, had been tilting upward since last Friday and might be due for a little technical correction.

Dealings slowed at intervals after a moderately lively start but plus marks were in the majority near the fourth hour.

Ahead most of the time were Eureka Vacuum, at a 1944 peak; Sinclair Oil, Santa Fe, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, American Telephone, J. C. Penney and Douglas Aircraft. Intermittent decliners included Northern Pacific, Gulf Oil, Sears Roebuck, United Aircraft and General Electric.

ROTARY OFFICIALS MEET

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 18—Two hundred fifty Rotary International executives, representing by proxy the 5,240 Rotary clubs in more than 50 countries, convened today for the group's 35th annual convention, a wartime conference limited to essentials.

Program by Pupils Presented for P.-T. A.

At a meeting of the George Washington P.-T. A. Tuesday night in the school auditorium the topic, "Program Planning by the Children," was carried out by pupils. Marilyn Thompson and Mary Hall, sixth grade pupils, had charge of devotions, giving Bible verses for each letter of the alphabet and the former speaking the invocation. The pledge to the American flag was given by the assembly. Each of the fourth, fifth and sixth grade groups presented songs under the direction of Miss Helen Aydelotte accompanied by Miss Reta VanMeter, to whom corsages were presented by the P.-T. A. in appreciation of their work during the year. Folk dances were given by eight pupils of the fourth grade dressed in costumes of "the gay 90's". Virginia Mason, a sixth grade pupil, announced the program. Mrs. Perry Hall and Mrs. J. E. Winter, president and vice president, were selected delegates to the Oh

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

THE EAGER look in Roderick's eyes at the spoke of a gun made me catch my breath in regret that of what it meant. It was something more than the natural desire to shoot—anything who could fight for his country have. It was the coming of the age of killing machines, machines that were to be manned by boys. Roderick was only a boy, and I looked into the children of the world in that Armageddon where we have been forced to choose whether to live on our feet, or die on our knees."

I have agreed with Dicky's theory that as soon as the boys were able to hold a gun, they should be taught how to shoot, too. No else has impressed upon them the danger which lies in improperly ammo, rusted or unloaded, and has put all the safeguards around their sport of which it has been possible for him to think. But still this moment I had noticed only the reaction to weapons which is that of every normal boy.

Now, however, there came to me the first breath of terror which so many mothers know today, for I knew that Junior's heart held the same emotion as Roderick's, and that if the war last long enough, they would both be clamoring for our permission to get into it long before their draft age.

But with the knowledge that I must not delay my answer to Roderick's question, I crushed back my fears, and answered him lightly.

"Sorry, Roderick," I said, "but it isn't necessary. Katie is standing guard over the man now with your baseball bat and Junior's. And I'm giving you the same instructions I just gave to Charlie Kent. If the man speaks do not answer him. If he tries to move, rap him on the leg or the arm with the bat. But I'm sure you won't have any trouble. Will you please come with me, now?"

Junior Listening

Junior's voice, eager, intrigued, interrupted me, and I realized that from his post by the kitchen door he had been listening intently to the conversation.

"I thought there were four men, Mums," he said questioningly.

"There are," I told him. "One of them is really an F.B.I. man. He is talking now to Lee Chow and Major Grantland in my study. You will all have a chance to see him before we tie him up again and put him with the others, so they will not suspect anything. That is why I am taking Jim and Katie away from their posts now, so that they may see him. When they come back, if the Tigers have arrived, we are all going in to the study, and you will have the chance to look him over. Does this answer your question?" I finished with a quizzical smile at my eager young son.

"I'll say it does!" he answered, then added ecstatically: "Oh, Boy, what a night!"

I turned to Charlie Kent and Roderick.

"Come with me now, please," I said, "and, remember, do not speak, and walk softly."

Takes Poker

I took a heavy poker from behind the kitchen stove, and handed it to Charlie Kent, as he and Roderick nodded their assent to my injunctions. Then they followed me through the kitchen into the main hall. I opened the living room door softly, put my finger on my lips, and beckoned to Jim. When he had come out, I closed the door again and whispered:

"Charlie Kent is taking your place for a few minutes," I said. "Now, I want you to go back in softly when I open the door wide, put your hand on your shotgun so that Charlie can see where you have it, and then come out again as noiselessly. Do you understand?"

"Yes, Mis' Graham," Jim said, and as soon as I had opened the door, he went to his station with Charlie Kent's keen eyes following him, laid his hand upon the gun, and then came back again to the door. As soon as he had reached it, I signaled to Charlie Kent to go to Jim's station, waited for any movement or attempt at speech on the part of the two men, then, one quick, silent movement apiece, opened the door, and, without speaking, Katie for silence, preceding her out.

When I had closed the door, she looked at me with reproach.

"You had no fellow armed!" she said.

"Ready for a second," I answered, "as those men to Roderick, please."

Withering Look

The look she gave Roderick should have withered him, but he was too engrossed in his thrilling new duty to notice it.

"When I open the door," I told him, "go to the place where Katie stood, and stay there until she comes back to relieve you."

I opened the door on the word, and he softly went to Katie's place. I waited as I had done at the living room door, and when there was no sign from the bound man lying at Roderick's feet, I closed the door again, and turned to wide-eyed, palpitating Katie and stolid Jim.

"Now," I said, "we are going to my study where Major Grantland is going to give you a chance to look at that fourth man, the one he unbound and took with him into the study. Remember, you are not to speak while you are in there unless you are asked a question."

YOUR HEALTH

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Water Treatment

In these days of doctor shortages I am impressed with the ignorance of and neglect of simple household remedial relief than can be obtained from hot and cold water. Somebody in the house had a bad pain and you can't get the doctor. The druggist won't sell you any painkillers and aspirin does not give relief. That is the situation.

The house mother who has to treat the patient wrings her hands and deplores the emergency situation, the lack of doctors, the hard-heartedness of the narcotic laws and the patient goes on suffering. And all the time if she has a sink with running water or a well and a stove and a few towels she could give relief such as rich people in the best of times went miles and spent large fees to obtain.

Long ago in the little Austrian village of Grafenberg, a peasant boy named Vincenz Priessnitz was kicked by a horse, thrown to the ground and the heavy cart passed over his chest fracturing some ribs. The local doctor said he was crippled for life. The boy could not accept this verdict. He was wracked with pain and bent over with deformity, but his determination to get well was strong.

As he lay on his bed of pain he remembered an experience of his childhood. He had gone out in the mountain paths near his home and lay down by a spring when he saw a young roe which had been shot through the thigh drag herself into the spring. It got the wounded thigh in position so that it was entirely covered by the cold flowing water. It appeared to obtain relief. Day after day he returned to the spring and was rewarded by seeing the wounded roe return also and renew the bath. And day by day he rejoiced to see it improve and finally regain its healthy movements.

Young Vincenz had an oaken arm chair brought to his bedside and pressing his abdomen on it he gradually in successive trials forced his ribs back into place. Then he had bandages wrung out of cold water and laid over his painful muscles. His discomfort subsided and before long he was well and whole again.

He became a crusader for water treatment. He applied his remedies to his neighbors who had sprains and bruises or neuralgias. His fame grew. Patients came to him from all over Bohemia and Moravia. Finally he was able to build a magnificent hospital for water treatment and his income was enormous. As he lay dying he was urged to have a doctor, but the doctors had never been very kind to him. "No doctor," said the sick man. "Is there not God and cold water?"

One of the remedies is the Priessnitz bandage. Its application is absurdly simple. For any pain—abdominal, chest, joint, sprain—wring a piece of cloth out of cold water and lay it over the affected part, and cover it snugly with a larger towel pinned in place. I have seen more than once an attack of gallstones relieved this way without morphine.

For pneumonia a sheet wrung out of lukewarm water laid on the bed, the patient put down on it and wrapped it in from neck to toes and then covered with blankets will often do more than half a dozen hypodermic pills.

Affusion—cold water poured from a height over the back of a patient—will relieve asthma and a dozen other ailments.

I find in an issue of "War Medicine" for December 1943, a recommendation for the "hip bath" to tone up muscular fatigue. The patient is seated in a chair, feet on a high stool, and water sprayed from a hose over the abdomen from the umbilicus down. Starting with warm water the temperature was gradually increased for five minutes and then increasingly cold water was used. The result was improvement in visual acuity, muscle balance in blood pressure and increase in red blood cells.

The hot water bag and electric pad are also in the armamentarium of the "house mother."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. L.—Do face creams made with lanolin oil or vaseline feed the hair roots and therefore cause them to grow faster? Is it true that mineral oil is not so likely to feed the hair roots? What effect does freckle cream have on the skin?

Answer: Neither lanolin, vaseline, nor mineral oil rubbed on the skin affect the hair roots in any way. The only route to nourish hair roots is taking something by mouth that gets in the blood stream. Hair roots do not utilize fats anyway. What they need is keratin.

G. B.—How does an inactive thyroid affect a child's general health? Is there a machine to find out if the ductless glands of the body are working?

Answer: An inactive thyroid produces overweight and a sluggish mentality. Yes, a machine called the basal metabolism machine measures the activity of the ductless glands.
